THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Is Now Before the People for Their Approval.

Mayor Courtney is at the Head, William P. Foye for Purchasing Agent, and an Aldermanic Ticket That Will Command General Respect—Now for the Election of the Entire Ticket.

Democracy's choice:

For Mayor,
Hon. William F. Courtney.

For Aldermen,
Ward one—Edward B. Pierce.
Ward two—Charles H. Cosgrove.
Ward three—Coolidge R. Johnson.
Ward four—David H. Gorow.
Ward five—Guy H. Holbrook.
Ward six—Henry Hamer.
Ward seven—John Vincent.
Ward eight—Oliver A. Libbey.
Ward nine—Lawrence Cummings, 3d (declined.)

It was a large night for the democracy of Lowell, last night, as after a hard and bitter battle at the caucuses it came together in convention united as of yore, the defeated candidate, Fisher H. Pearson, being prominent among the enthusiastic Courtneyites.

The hall, floor and galleries were filled with democrats who were interested principally in the selection of a candidate for purchasing agent, while little interest was taken in the aldermanic nomination with one exception. That was the case of Ward Nine, where the delegates wanted Mr. Lawrence J. Cummings, the well known newspaper man. There is no question about Mr. Cummings's strength, and in a few minutes the entire convention was talking of Mr. Cummings, and many prominent democrats urged him to stand.

Mr. Cummings, however, could not accept the nomination and declined when his name was presented, despite the entreaties of his friends.

At 8.30 o'clock Hon. Fisher H. Pearson called to order and the delegates took seats with but little delay as all were desirous of getting through quickly.

Hon. John E. Drury nominated Philip J. Farley for temporary chairman and Mr. Farley took the platform. Andrew J. Barrett was then made temporary secretary on motion of John F. Murphy.

On motion of D. J. Donahue a committee of one from each ward as a committee on credentials was appointed by the chair as follows:

Charles H. Burns, Ward one; W. A. Hogan, Ward two; William C. Doherty, Ward three; Jos. H. Gormley, Ward four; John H. Buckley, Ward five; Francis T. Callahan, Ward six; Philip Demarais, Ward seven, Edward B. Pierce, Ward eight; Daniel P. O'Neil, Ward nine.

Mr. Hogan for the committee reported in a short time, at large, Fisher H. Pearson and one delegate from each of the nine wards a total of 82 delegates present. The temporary organization was then made permanent.

Mr. Farley then spoke in substance as follows:

Three candidates of unquestionable ability, of unblemished character, have sought the leadership of the party, and after one of the largest caucuses held in this city, it was decided to take for the best interests of the city that standard bearer who for two years has carried the party to victory, Hon. William F. Courtney. Honorable and loyally have the defeated candidates of the party abided by that great fundamental principle of the party, the will of the majority.

"We are also here unpledged and untrammelled to nominate an aldermanic ticket and we will present the names of the strongest men and most upright in the party."

Hon. John C. Burke, Esq., then arose and said:

"I rise to place in nomination a name that will be received with hearty welcome by this convention. I want first to congratulate the party upon the action of its caucuses, as it comes here a united democracy. I also want to congratulate the party, not because it nominated the Hon. William F. Courtney, but because every candidate mentioned was the peer of any one presented by the other party and had the other candidates received the nomination the party would have been satisfied with the choice."

He then referred in complimentary terms to Mayor Courtney's admirable plan of action while in office, and he closed with expressing his heartfelt congratulations to the party in its choice, and presented in nomination the name of the Hon. William F. Courtney. (Great applause.)

Hon. Fisher H. Pearson then arose and was received with great applause. He said: I had hoped to place Mr. Courtney's name in nomination, but one more eloquent has done the duty well. Mayor Courtney has been nominated after one of the largest and most bitter caucuses ever held and this augurs well for the party's success for when democrats fight among themselves before the caucuses they always fight harder against the enemy on election day. I wish to thank all my friends who voted for me and worked for me and I ask all if they are friends or followers of mine to forget all anti-caucus differences and to work and vote for Mr. Courtney as I shall work for him. In conclusion I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of Hon. William F. Courtney.

Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., there moved that a committee of two from each ward be appointed to fill out the ticket with the exception of purchasing agent. B. D. O'Connell and others objected to the motion as they claimed that certain wards were instructed to vote for certain names.

J. J. Hennessey moved a recess of 10 minutes in order that the different ward delegations might vote in on their respective ward candidates.

After several suggestions had been made a motion by W. A. Hogan similar to that of Mr. Hennessey calling for a five minute recess was carried.

After the recess nominations were called for and Henry Courtney representing Ward one said that the delegates in that ward had drafted a candidate from Ward eight and had chosen a finely qualified candidate in the person of Edward B. Pierce. (Great applause.)

Mr. Pierce said that he was a democrat and was willing to respond to the party's call if made in a proper way. He thought it best to call upon a resident of that ward. If you see fit to nominate me, however, I will accept the nomination and if elected will undertake to execute the duties of the office to the best of my ability. We start in next year on a new era and I hope we will elect a board of aldermen who will hold up the hands of Mayor-Courtney whom I am confident will take the oath of office on inauguration. There is one issue in particular on which we should win and that is the issue of Americanism, equality, freedom and liberty, civil and religious and our candidates are the only ones on that issue. If you see fit to nominate me I will use my best endeavors in the interest of Americanism and good government.

When Ward two was called Joseph Hennessy arose and in a very complimentary speech nominated Charles H. Cosgrove, Esq. Assuming that the argument would be used that Mr. Cosgrove is too young he quoted history showing that some of the world's most brilliant men achieved their success while yet young men.

William C. Doherty presented the name of Coolidge R. Johnson as Word three's candidate. (Applause.)

For Ward four Daniel J. Donohue presented the name of David Gerow of Chelmsford street. (Applause.)

In Ward five J. J. O'Connor presented the name of Dr. Guy H. Holbrook. (Applause.)

John C. Burke in Ward six presented the name of Henry Hamer as that ward's candidate for alderman and John H. Nolan said that as the contest was close he would move that the convention proceed to ballot and presented the name of Bowers J. Hart as a candidate. The motion prevailed.

Mr. Hogan reported as follows:

Whole number	81
Necessary	41
Henry Hamer	43
Bowers Hart	37
Blank	1

and Mr. Hamer was declared the nominee.

For Ward 7 John F. Murphy nominated John Vincent as the nominee of that ward.

For Ward 8 Mr. P. Fitzgerald nominated Oliver A. Libbey.

For Ward 9 Frank J. Simonds in complimentary remarks presented the strongest name, that of a sterling democrat, known to every democrat in Lowell, a lifelong resident of the city and a credit to the democratic party, Laurence J. Cummings, whose name was greeted with loud applause and continued cheering, and Mr. Cummings was declared the nominee with more cheering.

Mr. Cummings declined the nomination in brief remarks, thanking the democracy for the honor conferred upon him. His business was such, he said, that he could not accept the office if elected, and the convention, greatly disappointed, voted to refer the matter to the delegation from Ward 9 with full powers.

Then Col. Carmichael moved that an informal ballot for a superintendent of the department of supplies be taken, and the motion carried.

The informal ballot was announced as follows:

Whole number	82
Necessary	42
Edward J. Carroll	10
Philip H. Connors	14
Miles F. Brennan	24

Mr. P. Fitzgerald urged the nomination of the strongest man.

A second and formal ballot was then taken with this result:

Whole number	82
Necessary	42
Edward J. Carroll	4
Philip H. Connors	6
Miles F. Brennan	32
William P. Foye	40

The third and last ballot nominated Mr. Foye as follows:

Whole number	82
Necessary	42
Edward J. Carroll	1
Miles F. Brennan	34
William P. Foye	47

The announcement of Mr. Foye's success was greeted with applause. The nomination was made unanimous.

Hon. Fisher H. Pearson moved that the officers of the convention be instructed to notify Mayor Courtney of his nomination and on motion of Daniel J. Donahue the officers and executors were given power to fill vacancies.

AN OLD TIME GAME

Catches a Rube in New York State.

BERRY DREW HIS CASH FROM THE BANK.

To Hand Over $2800 to the Two Swindlers.

Corning, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Two swindlers found an easy victim in this city yesterday, and worked the tin-box and three-card trick successfully upon S. Spencer Berry for $2800 in cash. It was the same old story of a well-dressed man wanting to buy some property which Berry owned a few miles from this city. The swindlers and Berry started to visit where the land was located, and on their way they met a fellow who was flush with money and had large sums, which he displayed. He said he lost considerable in this city Monday night playing cards, and then produced three cards, with which he began to illustrate the trick he was caught at.

The swindler who was to purchase the land became interested, and finally made a wager of $5, which he won. He then induced Berry to join him in a bet of $5000. This Berry consented to do, and the two returned here, Berry drawing $2800 from the bank.

The swindler was to put up $2200, all of which was to be placed in a tin box. Berry placed his money in the tin box, and the swindler said he would have to go to Elmira to obtain the money, which he had in a bank there. Berry was given the box, which was supposed to contain his money, and the fellow started off to get the $2200. They did not return, and when Berry opened the box he found it contained but a stone and some old papers.

The swindlers were far out of sight by this time. The police have been notified, but it is not expected that the swindlers will be captured, as only a meager description of them can be obtained. Berry is reputed to be worth considerable money. He is said to have made a fortune during the gold fever in California, and has lived in retirement ever since.

A Footrace Assured.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Recently a challenge was sent to England by Pete Ward of this city for a match race between Pat Carroll of Waltham, the present American professional distance champion runner, to match with anyone on the other side, not barring F. E. Bacon, victor in three match races over Tommy Conneff, for a race, or a series of races, from one to five miles, for $1000 a side. Mr. Ward has received a cablegram from Dublin stating that Mullen, the Irish champion, accepts the challenge. The date and distance is not given. Manager Ward and Carroll will leave for the other side about Christmas time. Should Carroll defeat Mullen he will take on Conneff, Crossland or Bacon.

Was Body of Rev. Horace Keeley.

Boston, Nov. 24.—A dispatch to The Traveler from Lynn says: A gentleman, who refused to give his name for various reasons, called upon Sergeant George Munroe at police headquarters at noon yesterday and emphatically declared that the body of the man which was found in Saugus river last week, and which is now at the Lynn morgue, is that of Rev. Horace Keeley, who eloped from Medina, N. Y., with a young girl some weeks ago. The man said he read the description of the dead man Saturday and felt convinced that it was Keeley's body, so he sought the morgue, and producing a photograph identified the body.

Honored by Governor Grout.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 24.—Governor Grout announced a number of appointments yesterday, of which the following are the most important: Fish commissioners, Horace W. Bailey of Newbury for two years, John W. Titcomb of St. Johnsbury for four years; Charles C. Bingham of St. Johnsbury, member of the state board of pharmacy; Mary L. Titcomb of Rutland, member of state library commission; board of dental examiners, George F. Cheney, St. Johnsbury; Thomas Mound, Rutland; S. D. Hodge, Burlington; A. J. Parker, Rockingham, and George O. Webster, St. Albans.

Judge Nott Promoted.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The president has filled the vacancy in the chief justiceship of the court of claims, caused by the death of Judge Richardson, by the promotion to that office of Judge Charles C. Nott, now a member of the court. The latter's place was filled by the appointment of Charles B. Howrey, who now holds a position of assistant attorney general in the department of justice.

Democrats Gain a Congressman.

Richmond, Nov. 24.—The Democrats have gained an additional congressman in Virginia by the action of the state board of canvassers, which gave the certificate to Flood in the Tenth district, owing to the fact that the Buckingham county returns were returned for Jacob Yost, when the other returns were for J. Yost. This gave Flood a plurality.

The Hilton Failure.

New York, Nov. 24.—Schedules in the assignment of Albert B. Hilton, who conducted business under the firm name of Hilton, Hughes & Co., successors to Stewart & Co., were filed yesterday in the supreme court. The schedules show liabilities to the amount of $1,881,576; nominal assets, $1,600,342, and actual assets of $782,174.

Monument to Jersey Troops.

Chattanooga, Nov. 24.—The monument erected at Orchard Knob to the New Jersey troops who fought at Chickamauga, Chattanooga and Missionary Ridge was dedicated yesterday. Speeches were made by Hon. Francis Child, General J. S. Fullerton and Hon. H. Clay Evans of this city.

WALES VISITING

The Duke and Duchess of Marlboro.

CORDIAL GREETINGS ARE EXCHANGED BETWEEN SCIONS

Of Royalty—Elaborate Preparations For Festivities.

Woodstock, Eng., Nov. 24.—Woodstock and Blenheim were enfete yesterday in honor of the visit of the Prince of Wales to the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. The decorations were most elaborate and universal. The railroad station was made brilliant with scarlet and gold canopies, flags and colored lamps, and the streets leading to Blenheim park gate were lined with Venetian masts, festooned with colored lamps and innumerable flags, many of which were the Stars and Stripes, sewn to Union Jacks, and everywhere were loyal, welcoming mottoes, triumphal arches, covered with foliage, bunting in profusion, lamps of all colors, and Prince of Wales' feathers in abundance.

The royal special train arrived here at 6:40 p. m., and was met by the Duke of Marlborough, who was in waiting on the platform. Outside the railroad station a dense crowd of people was gathered.

The Prince of Wales was the first to alight from the train. He was followed by the Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark and Princess Victoria of Wales. The most cordial greetings were exchanged between the hosts and their guests, after which the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Marlborough led the procession from the depot.

The royal party was greeted with enthusiastic cheers, and a few minutes after their arrival the carriage procession was formed as follows: The first vehicle, a pair-horse, open landau, with the horses ridden by postillions in the Marlborough liveries, contained the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria of Wales and the Duke of Marlborough. It was escorted by the mayor and town councilors on foot. In a second landau were seated Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, General Ellis and Lady Kingscote, escorted by eight town councillors on foot.

The third carriage contained Ladies Londonderry, Helen Stuart, Curzon and Randolph Churchill.

In the fourth carriage were seated Viscount and Viscountess Gesford and Sir Samuel and Lady Scott.

Following these carriages came one of Blenheim's omnibuses, containing Mr. and Mrs. George N. Curzon, Major General Sir Francis Grenfeld and Lady Grenfeld, Mr. Henry C. Chaplin, Mr. A. J. Balfour, Mr. Sidney Grenville and the Earl of Chesterfield.

The Woodstock fire brigade acted as a guard of honor, and marched after the procession to the gates of Blenheim park. The Prince and Princess of Wales and their party received an ovation. Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark and the other members of the party were also heartily cheered.

Upon arrival at the palace, the Duchess of Marlboro, who was attired in black, met the guests at the great door of the palace, where she warmly welcomed the Princess of Wales, who returned her greeting in the most cordial manner.

The most elaborate arrangements have been made for shooting parties throughout the week. There will be state dinners every night and a string band of 50 performers will furnish music during these repasts. Perkins, the organist of the town hall of Birmingham, will play the great organ in the long library on Thursday, upon the occasion of the festivities for the people of the vicinity, who are expected by the thousands. There will be a great torchlight procession of 1000 laborers of Blenheim, and a display of fireworks, surpassing anything seen outside of the Crystal palace.

Schooner Atwood Ashore.

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The Nova Scotia schooner Atwood, from Lower Cove for Boston with a cargo of grindstones, is reported ashore on Baker's Island bar, Me., and the captain wires to the owners that she is full of water and broken in two. She is 93 tons register, hails from Parrsboro, and is owned and commanded by Magnus Benjamin. The hull is insured in a Halifax office, and the freight in St. John, N. B.

Bermuda at Halifax.

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The former filibuster Bermuda arrived yesterday from New York. Captain William K. Scott, formerly of the British steamship Flamborough, expects to get permanent British registry and change her name to Laura May. There are few countries that are not represented by the crew of the Bermuda. The steamer will at once load apples for London.

Habana a Silent City.

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The steamer Beta, from Cuba, reports Habana a silent city. The streets are deserted. Business is at a standstill. Several Spanish men-of-war and several merchant steamers comprise the shipping in port. The prevailing opinion is that Spain will acknowledge the independence of Cuba before spring.

Will Divide Turkey.

London, Nov. 24.—The Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent says that the Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia, on a recent visit to Vienna, took with him a proposal for the partition of Turkey among the powers, and to make Constantinople a free port, Russia to have Asia Minor and England to have Egypt.

Expedition to Twat Abandoned.

Tangiers, Nov. 24.—It is reported here that owing to strong foreign pressure, France, after massing troops on the frontier, has been obliged to abandon the projected expedition to Twat, the extensive territory south of Morocco and Algeria.

Speedy's Sensational Dive.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—Kearney P. Speedy, the well known high diver, plunged from the Superior street viaduct into the river, 81 feet, yesterday. He was not injured, and was probably not nearly so frightened as some persons among the crowd who witnessed his dive. He landed with a splash, but arose immediately, and was picked up by a small boat in readiness.

COL. J. W. BENNETT

Won in Mayoralty Race at Republican Caucuses.

JOE MILLER BURIED AS BY AN AVALANCHE.

Barnard Nominated for Purchasing Agent.

The republican caucuses last night under the freedom of the Australian ballot surprised everybody.

Nobody dreamt that Mr. Miller would come out next to the last man. It was generally supposed that he would give Bennett a close rub, but alas! Miller's power is broken, and his friends seem to have taken to the woods. Only 541 republican voters in this city preferred him to the other candidates, while 2271 preferred Col. Bennett, over 4 to 1.

Surely this will be regarded as a cruel "throw-down," and no doubt the Millerites will avenge it later on.

The result is given below:

Totals for mayor: Bennett, 2271; Wilson, 1366; Tryder, 697; Miller, 541; Marston, 440.

Purchasing agent totals: Barnard, 1380; Roper 1118; Goodell, 783; Wotton, 691; Hallett, 444; Brown, 348.

Ward One.

The republicans here were prepared for caucus packing for they had a challenging committee appointed. The caucus was a large one, and when the votes were counted, the following result was announced:

Mayor: Bennett, 203; Marston, 51; Miller, 61; Tryder, 143; Wilson, 124.

Alderman: Edward T. Goward.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 246; Brown, 70; Goodell, 58; Hallett, 41; Roper, 95; Wotton, 61.

Council: Samuel Scott, Clarence W. Dana, and Anadore Bosca.

Ward Two.

The republican forces in this ward are not large, but those who were privileged turned out to vote.

Two men named Sullivan attempted to vote and they were challenged. The vote stood.

Mayor: Bennett, 84; Marston, 15; Miller, 13; Tryder, 9; Wilson, 34.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 88; Brown, 19; Goodell, 9; Hallet, 8; Roper 12; Watton, 11.

Aldermanic: Lucius A. Derby.

Common Council: Patrick Falvey, Wm. Greenleaf, Ira E. Shaw.

Ward Three.

"Joe" Miller came no where near carrying his own ward. "Jim" Bennett went through with a whoop carrying everything before him. The vote: For mayor, James W. Bennett, 458; Geo. H. Marston, 52; Joseph Miller, 116; George H. Tryder, 64; John C. Wilson, 191.

For alderman: James A. Povey.

Purchasing agent: Virgil G. Barnard, 130; Frank Brown, 35; Harlan P. Goodell, 101; Frank H. Hallett, 119; Geo. A. Roper, 302; Charles A. Wotton, 138.

School committee: George F. Thomas; council, William H. Brown, O. D. Wilder and James Smith.

Ward Four.

There was a fine turnout of republicans in this democratic stronghold and Wilson carried the ward.

Here is the result:

Mayor: Bennett, 67; Marston, 22; Miller, 64; Tryder, 13; Wilson, 143.

Alderman: Fred A. Tuttle.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 42; Brown, 21; Goodell, 94; Hallett, 24; Roper, 31; Wotton, 64.

Common council: Jos. L. Howarth, Jas. T. Lord, Wm. Wilson.

Ward Five.

It was a fairly good attendance at the caucus in this ward and the different candidates were hustling all evening. The vote as announced was:

Mayor: Bennett, 88; Marston, 28; Miller, 27; Tryder, 11; Wilson, 74.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 64; Brown, 23; Goodell, 33; Hallett, 16; Roper, 32; Wotton, 40.

Alderman, Leblanc.

Common council: James F. Robinson, Hartley Midgley, Thomas F. McQuade.

School committee: Harry Gray.

Overseer of the poor: Robert Farley.

Ward Six.

"Charlie" Kimball won his fight here defeating Brown by 79 votes. Councilmen Drewett and Badger were downed and three new men nominated. Here is the result:

Mayor: Bennett, 163; Marston, 144; Miller, 39; Tryder, 269; Wilson, 97.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 313; Brown 47; Goodell, 89; Hallett, 48; Roper, 99; Wotton 65.

Alderman: Edward S. Eastman.

Councilmen: Wm. E. Badger, 348; J. H. Beaulieu, 384; Sidney Drewett, 183; Walter Leighton, 375; Geo. H. Taylor, 376; B. F. Walker, 214.

School board, F. K. Stearns, 637.

Overseer of poor, Chas. H. Kimball, 386; Wm. D. Brown, 307.

Just a price or two to show how little it costs to clothe the boy. These lots just closed out are offered much below the real value.

Ward Seven.

It was a fine endorsement the voters of this ward gave to Lorenzo E. Smith. The very popular councilman polled 339 votes and led in the race. P. J. Canty, who jumped from the democratic to the republican party, was buried. The vote:

Mayor: Bennett, 400; Marston, 35; Miller, 77; Tryder, 50; Wilson, 159.

Alderman: Charles E. Howe, 367; F. P. Rivet, 261.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 335; Brown, 39; Goodell, 80; Hallett, 35; Roper, 156; Wotton, 51.

Common council: Clovis Belanger, 397; P. J. Canty, 279; Alfred J. Howe, 366; Lorenzo R. Smith, 339; Lincoln R. Welch, 410.

Ward Eight.

Councilman George never know he was in the race when the vote in the council was announced. Politically, he is dead, and no one knows this better than himself.

The result:

Mayor: Bennett, 433; Wilson, 368; Miller, 73; Tryder, 65; Marston, 48.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 174; Brown, 45; Goodell, 139; Hallett, 101; Roper, 298; Wotton, 175.

Trains by this division leave Lowell from Middlesex street station.

Leave Boston from the new Union Station, Causeway street.

*Express.

‡From Middlesex St. station only.

It Runs to Lowell Wednesdays and Saturdays only.

Lowell has a right to be proud of the Orchestral society.

Weyler says he will wait till Christmas before subduing Cuba. He may not wait so long to be subdued.

Mayor Pingree of Detroit is out for two cent fares on street railways. He has given Detroit three cent fares.

San Francisco has an airship that in its aerial peregrinations is mistaken for a meteor. When shall we take a picnic to Mars?

New York has inaugurated a crusade against hand organs. If the squeaky and untuned only were barred but few would be left.

"Rubbish" is the term applied to the despatches from Rome declaring that Archbishop Ireland had lost prestige with His Holiness.

The business situation is not as reassuring as the republican press would have us believe. Prices of commodities have gone up. Wages are stationary.

The republican party is drawing the color line upon Councillor Allen, yet that is the party that disowns just such discrimination. The St. Louis convention episode is not forgotten.

It is proposed to put street laborers under civil service rules. It is years ago since Mr. Fay told applicants for positions in the night artillery that they had to pass such an examination.

The Mail should look into the warring factions of the republican party and make peace. The Millerites will not down. Why does the Mail not bring them into line with the party leaders?

The manufacturers of the country demand a special session of congress to provide a tariff to recoup them for their large contributions to the campaign fund. They will have it if Hanna says so.

There will be another legal controversy in the interpretation of the revised charter. It is not what was intended, but what was enacted that will determine the meaning of that famous document.

Everybody in Lowell is expected to look around and find something for which to return thanks. The horse traders, for example, should be thankful at getting such a light sentence.

The only thing, it seems, in which young men of the present day risk their lives without a murmur or even without dread, is foot ball. Were they to show such bravery as soldiers, the foot ball players would all be heroes.

Will the city pay the horse bill? Will it pay a bill which the court found to be fraudulent and for the contracting of which two men were found guilty of conspiracy? Could that bill be recovered by legal process? Not in virtue of a just decision it seems.

The Mail is endeavoring to make it appear that there will be dissension in the democratic ranks. In its assertion that Mr. Pearson's friends will oppose Courtney the Mail makes another of its gratuitous statements for which it is noted—statements without foundation and in open and flagrant contradiction of the facts.

We are apprised by a London paper that war with Spain means war with Europe. No doubt England would gladly join Spain and some other European power in a war against the United States but that is the only kind of a war that she would enter into against America. Suppose it turned out to be a pan-American war with all Europe on the other side. England might do mischief with her gun boats along shore; but neither she nor Spain could retake a single possession they have lost on this continent.

CROKER WILL LEAD

The Tammany Braves as In the Days of Yore.

New York, Nov. 24.—Richard Croker spent Sunday and yesterday in consultation with Tammany district leaders. When seen at his office, he said that he was not yet prepared to talk politics.

In answer to the question: "What are the prospects of harmony in Tammany Hall?" Mr. Croker said: "I see no reason why all Democrats cannot get together now, and present a united front to the enemy in the municipal contest next year. If the people want an economical government they will elect a Tammany mayor."

RICHARD CROKER.

Mr. Croker said that he judged from his talk with the Tammany leaders that there was a disposition to bring about harmony in the organization. When asked how Henry D. Purroy stood, he said he had not seen Mr. Purroy yet. He also declared that he had not seen John C. Sheehan.

Tammany leaders who have talked with Mr. Croker say there is no doubt that he will direct Tammany's campaign next year, whether he decides to formally resume the leadership or not. He will look over the field this week, and it is said that he will make known his intentions next week.

CARRIERS' OVERTIME!

Will No Longer be Allowed at Washington.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The system of allowing overtime claims of letter carriers throughout the country will soon be practically abolished. This is in accordance with the policy begun by First Assistant Postmaster General James at the beginning of the administration. At that time claims for extra compensation for overtime in work were accumulating at the rate of 70,000 hours a month. This source of great expense to the service has been steadily diminished, and the reports for October show that the amount for that month was only 136 hours for regular letter carriers and 137 hours for substitutes. The department regards the overtime in nine cases out of 10 as unnecessary, and Mr. Jones says it will do away with overtime altogether, save in rare cases, where there is actual necessity.

Wanted by Fall River Police.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 24.—The police here will secure requisition papers for Sambril Harris, under arrest in Cleveland. Harris was arrested in this city in July, 1895, charged with breaking and entering and taking therefrom everything movable in Lakeville church. He was taken to Plymouth, and escaped from Deputy Sheriff Falvey on the train. A search of several days of the woods of Plymouth county was made. A letter was received from a Rabbi in Cleveland last week, making inquiries about Harris' wife, as Harris wished to marry there. Mrs. Harris is living in Taunton.

Will Go Into Receiver's Hands.

Buffalo, Nov. 24.—That the Bank of Commerce will go into the hands of a receiver now seems inevitable. All attempts at reorganization have proved fruitless. Other bankers are not inclined to assist, and the stockholders of the suspended bank cannot agree among themselves any more now than they could before its affairs reached such a shape as to compel suspension. Two names are prominently mentioned for the place of receiver, those of ex-Senator Henry Persons and State Committeeman John R. Hansel.

Weyler Was Scared.

New York, Nov. 24.—A Jacksonville, Fla., dispatch says: A cipher cablegram from Habana last night to a Cuban leader here says that General Weyler has been forced to return to Habana, and that the city is in great confusion.

Weyler gives no excuse, it is said, except that it is too hot and unhealthy to do any fighting. It is openly asserted in Habana that Weyler became frightened because Maceo had set a price upon his head or his capture.

Weyler's scouts informed him that Maceo might make an attempt on Habana, and the Spanish general retreated in hot haste to the safety of his palace.

It is also stated in the cablegram that Weyler's recall is assured now, as the Spanish government is incensed against him for his dilatory tactics.

Depew Spoke In Montpelier.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 24.—The anniversary exercises of the Vermont Society Sons of the Revolution were held in Harmony hall here yesterday afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock, the chief feature being an oration by Chauncey M. Depew of New York, president of the Empire State Society Sons of the Revolution.

Prominent Capitalist Dead.

Syracuse, Nov. 24.—Bruce S. Aldrich, a prominent Syracuse capitalist and business man, died here yesterday. He was largely interested in business affairs in different sections of the country.

A Theatrical Divorce.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—David Henderson, the theatrical manager who was recently divorced from Grace Roth Henderson, the actress, has been married to Miss Frankie Raymond, who has for several years been a member of Mr. Henderson's companies.

Polish Contained Naptha.

Portland, Me., Nov. 24.—Mrs. M. A. Thrasher, 55 years old, living in Willard, was fatally burned yesterday by using a stove polish containing naphtha. An instant after the rag containing the polish touched the stove Mrs. Thrasher was enveloped in flames, her body, arms and limbs being terribly burned.

Pace Too Hot For Slavin.

New York, Nov. 24.—In the boxing contest at the Broadway Athletic club last night between Frank Slavin of Australia and Bob Armstrong of Chicago, the former threw up his hands and quit in the fourth round.

THE TORRENS TITLE LAW

RECENTLY DECLARED INVALID BY SUPREME COURT.

What the Law Was—It Greatly Expedited the Conveying of Property—The Failure Will Check Efforts to Pass Similar Laws In Other States.

The unanimous decision of the Illinois supreme court that the Torrens land title law of that state is unconstitutional will be a severe setback to those who wish to see the complicated title laws of this country remodeled." The ground on which the decision was given is that the law invested the registrar with judicial powers, and as he is not a court and as the state constitution provides that judicial powers shall be exercised only by the courts the law necessarily contravenes that instrument. So the law fails, unless the legislature can find some way of remedying the defect, which is doubtful.

The Torrens land title law was passed by the Illinois legislature in 1895. One of its provisions required an affirmative vote by a county before it could go into effect. It was submitted to the voters of Chicago and Cook county at the election last spring and was approved by a large majority. It went into effect soon after and up to the time it was declared unconstitutional 100 certificates of registration had been issued under it. Doubtless many more would have been registered had there not been cases before the courts to set aside the law. Now that it has been declared void all that has been accomplished under it will be void, and it will be necessary to return to the old and complicated system of recording land titles.

The law in substance provided that on application of the owner of a piece of property to the county registrar the title should be thoroughly searched. If any flaws were found, the owner was notified and given time to cure them. But if the title was found clear it was registered, and after a certain time had passed no suit to impair the title could be brought. From that date no further searching of old records was necessary, and in conveying property the only step needed to prove title was a reference to the records in the registrar's office, which were always to be accessible. The method was quick and cheap. Instead of waiting weeks for a patient searching of musty title deeds, for which the payment of a round sum in lawyers' fees was demanded, the required information was always at hand and could be obtained at short notice and for a moderate sum.

The failure of the law in Illinois will necessarily check efforts to pass similar laws in other states. And if the point made by the Illinois supreme court holds good it is doubtful if such a law can be passed which will stand the test of the courts. As a Chicago lawyer remarked: "The real Torrens system can never be established in this country without an amendment to the constitution. It works well in Canada and Australia, where there are no written constitutions, but such an innovation would be unfortunate in a settled country like this." If this is a correct view of the case, the constitution will have to be amended or else the present method of conveying property will probably have to continue indefinitely. As the country grows older the searching of titles becomes constantly a more onerous task. It is to be hoped that some system, whether the amended Torrens system or some other, will be found which can lighten the burden.—Philadelphia Press.

THEY ARE 'HELA MONSTERS.

Repulsive Reptiles That Live at the Bottom of the River.

"Say, Chimmie, we don't fish no more in the 'Hela,'" said a boy wearing one rubber boot as his face took on a look of horror.

"Why, what's de matter?" asked his companion.

"Dogs, big water dogs, and dey'll get yc, too," replied the youthful fisherman, with a shiver.

The boys had not failed to discover a phenomenon that occurs but seldom. It was the mysterious visit of the water dogs, or river alligators. They are a kind of lizard that lives at the bottom of the rivers hereabouts in the mud. They never fail to drive every other inhabitant of the water away as soon as they arrive. They grow to be a foot in length, and are something like the bullhead in their habits. They made their appearance a few days ago in the rivers about Pittsburg, and, as they seize all kinds of bait, fishing will have to be abandoned until they take their departure. They come and go mysteriously, and not until they have left will the small boy enjoy catching fish.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Such Is Fame.

Governor Elect Tanner of Illinois, with his party and a number of his local friends, occupied a box last night during the initial performance of "The American Beauty" at the Academy, and the man who beat Altgeld attracted considerable attention when the fact of his being present became noised about the theater. Two young men who might have been better posted on the politics of the country were heard discussing the matter.

"Say," said one, "who are the fellows in the box?"

"Why, that's Altgeld and Tanner of Illinois."

"Well, who in the dickens are they?"

"Oh, don't you know who they are? Why they're the big race horse men."

And such is fame.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ONE SIDED GRAND JURIES.

Organized Labor In New York Protests Against Them and Tells Why.

District assembly, No. 49 Knights of Labor, and the American Federation of Labor, both of New York city, have submitted to the commission of grand jurors for New York county memorials calling attention to the apparent injustice of selecting members of the grand jury from the wealthy class exclusively. Both organizations prepared their memorials after a careful scrutiny of the doings of the grand jury for several months past in matters involving corporations.

The first case taken up by the labor men was that of the New York Central railroad. A list of 23 men who were killed on the tracks of that road within the city limits was sent to the district attorney's office, with a view to compelling the road to provide better safeguards for the preservation of human life.

This list was compiled by Secretary Kelly of District assembly No. 49 after a careful inquiry. He found that most of the men killed had been employees of the road.

Mr. Kelly received a reply from Henry W. Unger, District Attorney Fellows' secretary, stating that the case cited had been submitted to several grand juries and dismissed.

The grand jury list, which consists of 600 names, is made up each month from names selected from a box. Twenty-three names are drawn from the box in open court.

"The list is usually made up of wealthy men," said Assistant District Attorney Battle. "I, however, do not see any reason why laboring men should not be put on the list. I have noted during my connection with the district attorney's office that there are certain cases in which labor is interested where it is exceedingly difficult to get indictments. Such, for example, has been the experience where attempts have been made to secure indictments under the law prohibiting the employment of aliens on public works and prohibiting the employees in public buildings from working more than eight hours a day."

Government by Injunction.

The supreme court of Massachusetts rendered three opinions in the case of Frederick O. Vegelahn versus George H. Gantner et al., members of the International Furniture Workers' Union of America, which involved the power of a court of equity to enjoin striking employees from interfering with their employer carrying on his business.

The majority of the court, in an opinion written by Judge Allen, holds that the plaintiff was entitled to an injunction to restrain the defendants from patrolling the sidewalk in front of his premises on Hanover street for the purpose of preventing persons from entering his employ and from intimidating persons by threats or otherwise from entering his employ or continuing in his service and from conspiring among themselves to prevent any person from entering his employ who may desire to do so.

The patrol is held to be an unlawful interference with the plaintiff's rights. This is contrary to the view of Judge Holmes, who heard the case upon its merits and who now dissents from the majority of the court. Chief Justice Field also dissents from the majority, holding that the decree entered in the case by Judge Holmes at the trial should be affirmed without any modifications.

The majority of the court follow out the doctrine of the United States supreme court in the Debs case, and the doctrine of the English court as laid don in the celebrated case of the Mogul Steamship Company versus McGregor.—Boston Special Dispatch.

Wages In Lawful Money.

Organized labor in California has in convention assembled adopted for presentation to the state legislature a bill prohibiting the "truck" system. The principal section of the bill provides:

Any corporation, person or firm engaged in the business of manufacturing, mining, operating or constructing railroads, or in any other business or enterprise of whatsoever kind, in this state, who, by themselves or agent, shall issue or circulate, in payment for wages, any order, check, memorandum, token or evidence of indebtedness not redeemable as required by the first section of this act, or shall fail to redeem the same in lawful money of the United States on demand when presented for payment at the store, office or other place of business where the said order, check, memorandum, token or evidence of indebtedness was issued, except in case of insolvency, or who shall compel or attempt to coerce any employee of any such corporation, person or firm to purchase or receive goods, wares, merchandise or supplies from any person, firm or corporation in exchange for any order, check, memorandum, token or other evidence of indebtedness shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

M'KINLEY'S LEADERSHIP

His Masterly and Magnificent Conduct of the Campaign.

About 9 o'clock in the evening of the election, while the "landslide" to McKinley was being reported vaguely, but persistently, a wealthy gentleman named Garret A. Hobart telegraphed to Major McKinley, "Congratulations with all my heart on the glorious achievement under your magnificent leadership."

The enthusiastic congratulation turned out to be a little premature, being based on the rumors started by some one not over 1,000 miles from Republican headquarters. But it was none the less touching in its simple truth.

The leadership of McKinley has indeed been magnificent. He has led the way from the state capital to Canton. He has, under the direction of Mark Hanna, led the way to the table, and from the sitting room to the front porch, from which he has harangued his hired pilgrims with his ably edited and carefully memorized speech on the absolute necessity of electing him president.

McKinley led the country into the trap laid for it by the tariff barons in 1890. He led his followers that year into the depths of despair. He led the crowd of hungry office seekers, who repudiated their former views and concealed their present views, or lack of them, in order to feed at the public crib.

In this campaign Major McKinley's leadership has been unquestioned. Who doubted that he was exercising his own will and judgment when he declined to state his views on the currency until a complete set were furnished him with his nomination? It was, no doubt, his masterly leadership that made him resent the attempt of the people to get him to say one word on the subject of the trusts, who owned a controlling interest in him.

For the extraordinary meekness with which he allowed Mark Hanna to alter his ideas and supply him with ready made opinion no other term can be more appropriate than "magnificent leadership."—Kansas City Times.

Silver Must Be Restored.

The restoration of silver as standard money must be accomplished not only in this, but in the other great commercial nations of the earth. The party that pins this banner to its mast will be the dominant party of the future. The Dispatch calls upon every citizen to accept the verdict loyally. It is impossible to get higher than the people. He who would rise must lift the masses with him. Bryan has only begun his work and will not abandon his destiny. This paper will be with him in sunshine and storm, not because he is Bryan, but because he represents the best aspirations of the great people.—Chicago Dispatch.

Very Much Alive.

The London papers are afraid that "Bryan is not dead." Their apprehensions are well founded. No man in the United States is more alive today than William J. Bryan.

Worries the Post.

The talk of an international agreement is cropping out, and the New York Evening Post is throwing a fit every 24 hours, Sundays excepted.

Stronger Than Before.

There is something for everybody to be pleased about. The Democratic party finds itself stronger today without the bolters than it was ever before.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A New Way to Preserve Credit.

There can be no object for concealing the fact that since the 1st of July we have expended $53,000,000 in excess of our revenues. This fact cannot be ignored. It should be regarded as a serious matter. From whence is derived the money paid out in excess of income? It is derived from the sale of bonds, and the sale of bonds means that we are carrying on the business of the nation upon borrowed money to the precise extent of the excess of expenditures beyond revenues. If there is no other way to bring the revenues up to the expenditures, we must continue to borrow, for the credit of the nation must and shall be preserved.—Philadelphia North American.

Borrowing is indeed a new way to preserve credit. It used to be considered the surest way to destroy credit.

A Spoils Administration.

With McKinley in the White House there will be a great many changes in the departments. They will be reorganized with the thoroughness which has characterized the management of McKinley's campaign. Mark Hanna is a great believer in the idea of depositing the spoils with the victors, and Mr. McKinley's administration as governor of Ohio demonstrated his ability to hustle Democrats and superannuated Republicans out of choice roosting places.—Washington Post.

An Unwelcome Necessity.

Brooklyn has a gold cure establishment for women. A woman doctor runs it, and her success has been so pronounced that male inebriates frequently call at her sanitarium for treatment. She doesn't treat her patients like prisoners; but sends them to the theaters and entertains and amuses them in other ways. Still, it is not at all pleasant to learn that homes for women inebriates are among the necessities of the hour.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

He Was Delighted.

There was a little boy whose mother had made a little Lord Fauntleroy of him, training his hair in long curls and dressing him in black velvet knickerbockers and jacket, ornamented with white lace. One day a large girl thought to frighten the picturesque little chap by rushing toward him brandishing a large pair of scissors and exclaiming, "I'll cut off your curls!" The little Lord Fauntleroy was not frightened. He merely replied in a shrill little voice, "Wish you would!"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

ALL FOR SILVER

Battle to be Waged Until Victory Comes.

SO SAYS SENATOR JONES AT WASHINGTON.

Permanent Headquarters in That City.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, the chairman of the Democratic national committee, has returned for the congressional season. The senator expressed the opinion that it was not at all likely that the Dingley revenue bill, passed by the house at the last session, would be favorably acted on in the senate. He favors a tax on beer in place of any general tariff revision, and says by making this additional tax $1 a barrel, about $30,000,000 a year revenue would be derived.

Sugar he regards as a necessity of life, and further taxation of it would work against the interests of the poor. The same is true of other articles of consumption of which a great deal is used by the poor. The senator also declares himself in favor of an income tax, so that the rich should be made to contribute toward the burdens of government.

Senator Jones declares that the battle for free silver will be carried on until the metal is restored to the place it held before it was demonetized by the act of 1873. The leaders of the silver movement contemplate a gathering in the near future, when a discussion will be had as to the prospects and steps taken, looking to a continuation of the fight.

From what the senator said, it is probable that the Democrats will establish permanent headquarters in this city, to keep up the campaign for 1900.

DINGLEY BILL CONDEMNED.

General Grosvenor Favors Passage of a Protective Measure at Extra Session.

Cincinnati, Nov. 24.—The Commercial Tribune prints today a long article signed by General Grosvenor, congressman from the Eleventh Ohio district, in which he outlines his views as to the policy of the Republican party.

He says in the outset that he expresses his own views, and does not undertake to commit or represent any other member of the party than himself. Furthermore, he does not even consent to bind himself to these views, should the majority of his Republican associates on the ways and means committee dissent from them. He says:

MR. GROSVENOR, OF OHIO.

"The question of the hour, it seems to me, so far as it relates to economic legislation, is 'ought the Fifty-fourth congress, in its closing session, to pass the Dingley bill, or should that measure be allowed to perish and the Republican party move forward to the discharge of the high duties imposed upon it by the recent election?'"

On these questions General Grosvenor takes the position that although it might be well if the Dingley bill could be passed for temporary relief, and be followed immediately after March 4, in an extra session of congress, by the passage of a proper permanent measure, yet the passage of that tentative bill will hinder and obstruct the passage of a proper measure, and therefore should not be attempted. He criticizes the Dingley bill for proposing advalorem duties, which have proven standing invitations to defraud the government. This was one great defect of the Wilson bill, and it should be remedied in future legislation.

Another reason for the defeat of the Dingley bill is that it does not meet the requirements of the St. Louis platform as a protective measure.

He says every Republican member of the ways and means committee has been re-elected, and these members, "during the time which is to elapse between the first Monday in December and March 4, can formulate a tariff bill, predicated upon the principles of the McKinley law, with schedules adapted to existing conditions, perfected and ready for passage within 10 days after the meeting of an extra session of congress, and then, if there is patriotism and Republicanism enough in the senate it can be passed into a law and be ready for enforcement by May 1.

"On the other hand, let the Dingley tariff law be passed, founded as it is on errors that are organic and incurable. Then let it run till December, 1897, and let congress organize, appoint committees, encounter the delay of the holidays, attack a mass of incidental legislation, and set about framing a permanent tariff. In that case it should do well if it got an untried measure through by September, 1898, in the midst of a campaign for congress. Meanwhile, the country would be flooded with foreign importations to the injury of home industries, the reduction of revenue and a long train of consequent evils."

Republicans Protest.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 24.—Republican candidates for congress in the late election have filed protests with the board of canvassers against awarding the certificates to their Democratic opponents who were elected on the face of the returns. They allege that the registration law is unconstitutional, and many negroes could not register, and that many who did were not allowed to vote. There were protests from all of the seven districts except Congressman McLaurin's, but the board overruled each case and declared the Democrats elected.

Dingley and His Bill.

New York, Nov. 24.—The World this morning prints a two-column dispatch from Lewiston, Me., over the signature of Nelson Dingley, Jr., in reference to the tariff bill which bears his name. Mr. Dingley says that he "sees no reasonable ground for hoping that the exigency tariff bill, passed by the house last December, will be taken up by the senate this winter." Continuing, he says: "Notwithstanding the time of its continuance is already half gone, I should be glad to see this revenue bill now enacted, because an additional income is needed by the government, and because it would serve to check importations made in anticipation of increased duties. But it should be borne in mind that the passage of the exigency bill this winter would not make any the less necessary a revision of the tariff on protective and permanent lines."

Grounds of Kentucky Contest.

Louisville, Nov. 24.—Secretary Richardson of the Democratic state campaign committee has given out a statement covering the grounds on which a contest over the electoral vote of the state is to be made, first before the contest board, and if unsuccessful there before the courts. It is claimed that irregularities have been discovered affecting sufficient votes to insure the election of 12 of the Democratic electors. It is claimed that on a great many ballots the voters' cross was placed only before the first elector; that those ballots, in the case of the Republicans, were counted for the entire electoral ticket, whereas the Democratic ballots of this sort were counted for only the first elector, W. B. Smith.

Will Act as Escort.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—It is officially announced that troop A, Ohio National Guard of this city, will act as the military escort of President-elect McKinley at the inauguration ceremonies in Washington.

Bryan's House Quarantined.

Omaha, Nov. 24.—A special to The Bee from Lincoln, Neb., says: Ruth, the young daughter of Hon. William Jennings Bryan, is sick with diphtheria, and the family residence was yesterday morning placed under quarantine by Health Officer Rhodes. The disease has been developing for several days, but it was not known to be diphtheria until yesterday morning. The child's condition is not considered dangerous.

Royal Marriage Arranged.

London, Nov. 24.—A Copenhagen dispatch to The Daily Mail says that a marriage has been arranged between Prince Christian of Denmark, eldest son of Crown Prince Frederick, and Princess Pauline of Wurtemburg the daughter of King William II of Wurtemburg. Prince Christian was born Sept. 26, 1870, and Princess Pauline was born Dec. 19, 1877.

The Tiger Smiled.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 24.—The townspeople and students united in their efforts last night in the greatest celebration ever held at Princeton in honor of the greatest football victory ever won by a Princeton team. Boxes, barrels and demolished fences and board sidewalks were heaped up within the quadrangle as high as the surrounding tree tops. These were smeared with tar and oil, and at 9:30 o'clock, when a procession of 2000 people, led by the members of the championship team in a coach, halted in front of Clio hall, the huge pile was kindled. Speeches were made by President Patton, the football coaches and the players. Meanwhile the bells ringing, whistles blowing and the discharge of firearms kept up a deafening din. A brilliant display of fireworks lighted up the campus and ended the celebration in honor of the greatest football team that ever wore the Tiger stripes.

A Confidential Communication.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Consul General Lee, accompanied by Mrs. Lee and his daughter, called at the state department yesterday. General Lee, when asked concerning the reports that he had recommended intervention by the United States in Cuba, replied that his report had been presented personally to Secretary Olney, and that unless Mr. Olney had given out information concerning it all reports as to its contents were mere conjecture, for as far as he (Lee) was concerned he had not spoken to any one regarding it. When questioned directly as to the recommendations in his report, General Lee said positively that he must decline to discuss it in any shape or form, as his report was in the hands of Mr. Olney, who must make it public if it were to become public. General Lee said that he had not made up his mind as to exactly when he would return to Cuba.

Senator Lindsay on Cuba.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 24.—United States Senator William Lindsay, a strong administration man, expects decisive action on the part of congress regarding Cuba at the approaching session. In an interview, he says: "The revolution now in progress in Cuba must result in the independence of the island or in the practical extermination of the Cuban people." Continuing, the senator says: "Humanity demands that the useless destruction of property and cruel waste of human life should come to an end. If negotiation with Spain will not avail, then there should be intervention. In this movement the United States must take the lead."

Called on McKinley.

Canton, O., Nov. 24.—Colonel Fred Grant was a guest at the McKinley home yesterday afternoon, having come here from Cleveland, where he spent Sunday with National Chairman Hanna and other friends. He has been in St. Louis attending the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee, and merely stopped over in Cleveland and Canton on his way home. He is a personal friend of the McKinleys, and has visited them here on several occasions. William Monahan of Cleveland was another caller.

Into His Father's Shoes.

Atlanta, Nov. 24.—The Democrats of the Third congressional district will hold a convention at Hawkinsville today to nominate a candidate for the vacancy caused by the death of ex-Speaker Crisp. The convention is merely formal. Mr. Charles R. Crisp being the only candidate for his father's unexpired term, and the solid vote of the 12 counties comprising the district will be cast for him. The election will be held Dec. 8.

Sir Charles Staveley Dead.

London, Nov. 24.—The Times this morning contains a notice of the death of Sir Charles Staveley at Dublin yesterday. He was conspicuous during the Crimean and Chinese wars, and he made valuable military sketches at the time of the Oregon difficulty with the United States.

Jailbirds at Liberty.

Upper Sandusky, O., Nov. 24.—All the prisoners confined in the Wyandotte county jail escaped yesterday afternoon and are now at large. It is supposed that some one gave them a key by which the lock was picked.

STETSON'S WILL

Adah Richmond Tells When She Married.

THE PLACE PROVIDENCE AND DATE 1870.

The Case May Now Go to a Jury.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Counsel for Adah Richmond Stetson filed specifications in the supreme court yesterday in compliance with the court's order, giving the date and place of the marriage she claims with John Stetson, and which Executor Pattee denies.

The bill states that she was married to John Stetson in Providence, Dec. 7, 1870.

This declaration has been made in response to an order of the court petitioned for by Lawyer Pattee, asking that the appellant, Richmond, declare definitely the date and place of the marriage. The court gave counsel six days in which to file the specifications, and yesterday was the last day.

The answer, as filed by Lawyers Morse and Hellier, is as follows:

"The appellant, Adah Stetson, says that she was married to John Stetson, of Providence, R. I., on Dec. 7, 1870, that she thereafter lived with him as his wife in Boston, New York city, and in divers other places, and the said Adah Stetson further says that subsequently to April 27, 1874, she lived with him in New York as his wife, and was held out by him to others as his wife."

Will Come Back to Justice.

Hartford, Nov. 24.—Detective Sergeant Donnelly of New Haven late yesterday afternoon obtained requisition papers on the governor of Ohio for the surrender of James Gorman, now under arrest at Cincinnati, charged with embezzlement. Gorman was the confidential clerk of Edward Malley, of the firm of Malley & Neeley, dry goods merchants of New Haven, and while his employer was away on a hunting trip, about two weeks ago, disappeared. Investigation shows that he took fully $1500 in cash, and probably more. A young woman named Fannie Carter, with whom he became infatuated, accompanied him in his flight, and was with him when arrested. Gorman has resided in New Haven about a year, coming from Brooklyn. His salary was $18 a week, but he handled large sums of money and used it lavishly. The case against Gorman is being pressed by a security company that furnished bonds.

Prince Luigi Banquetted.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Prince Luigi of Savoy, of the Italian cruiser Cristoforo Colombo, was tendered a banquet last night at Hotel Vendome by a number of the Italian societies. About 60 sat about the festive board, and the other guests besides the prince were Mayor Quincy, Colonel Henry A. Thomas, the governor's private secretary, Captain Bertolini, the commander of the Cristoforo Colombo, Professor Charles Eliot Norton of Harvard university, Commodore Miller of the navy yard and Adjutant General Dalton. Previous to the banquet, over 1000 of the Italians in the North End paraded through the principal streets, and celebrated in "Little Italy" while the banquet was in progress.

He Is Mentally Unbalanced.

Alfred, Me., Nov. 24.—Peter Smith, who is in jail here for larceny, is believed, from the present investigation, to be James Blake, who is wanted in West Brownfield, Me., and Eaton, N. H., in connection with thefts of furniture. Smith, or Blake, was arrested on the charge of stealing produce of a Dayton farmer, and the two horses which were in his possession belong in Brownfield and Limerick. Extensive thefts of silverware, powder, produce, tools, etc., have been made at farmhouses, and the prisoner appears to know all about them. It is believed that a roomful of stolen goods found at North Conway, N. H., was the work of Smith. The prisoner is believed to be mentally unbalanced.

Yale Expects Defeat.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—Elaborate preparations have been made for the Yale-Princeton freshmen game at Princeton next Wednesday afternoon, but, unlike the 'varsity game, few of the Yale students expect to see their team win. It is not that the Yale eleven is not up to the usual standard, but it is believed the Princeton team is unusually strong, as they have on the team several of the 'varsity substitutes. The Yale team will leave here today, and will be accompanied by a large delegation of classmates.

Newell Spoke Effectively.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 24.—Bradley C. Newell, the famous Vermont healer, made his maiden speech in the legislature yesterday. Newell was elected for the first time in the last state election, and he spoke in opposition to a bill which provides that no one shall practice medicine in the state without undergoing an examination by a board of medical examiners. The bill was voted down almost without a vote in the affirmative.

Will Preach For Nothing.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—Recently Rev. Frank R. Luckey, pastor of the Humphrey Street Congregational church, this city, fell heir to a considerable sum of money. In his pulpit Sunday, Mr. Luckey announced that hereafter his services to the church would be rendered gratis. He has secured Rev. E. P. Armstrong of Springfield, Mass., to take charge of the Sunday school work, and Mr. Armstrong will be paid with the pastor's salary.

Old Marketman Dead.

Hartford, Nov. 24.—Henry W. Peckham, the oldest meat market man in the state, and a prominent member of the Connecticut Marketmen's association, died suddenly at his market on Ford street shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been at the horse races at Bloomfield during the afternoon, and had just returned. He was 65 years of age, and had been in business 44 years.

Legacies For Missionary Societies.

Hartford, Nov. 24. — By the will of Maria Whitman of West Hartford, probated yesterday, the American Missionary society and the Home Missionary society will each receive about $10,000; the American board of commissioners of foreign missions, $2000; American Tract society, $500, and West Hartford Ecclesiastical society, $2000.

Want to Keep Plant's Factory.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 24.—The board of trade last night took steps to induce Thomas G. Plant not to remove his shoe business from this city. Mr. Plant's factory is the one at which there has been much labor trouble during the past year. Over 100 business men were admitted to the board at this meeting.

Demand For American Apples.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Cable advices received yesterday from Hamburg state that there is still a strong demand for American apples, especially at interior points of Germany. The supply does not cover the consumption, and at the last sale Baldwins brought 13 marks, or about $3.20 a barrel.

Steam Sawmill Burned.

Temple, N. H., Nov. 24.—The steam sawmill owned by W. P. Bacon, with its contents, was burned to the ground last night. The fire started near the boiler. The loss is $3000, the insurance $1000. The mill will not be rebuilt.

Nine Rounds to a Draw.

Dangor, Me., Nov. 24.—James Griffin of Bangor and Patsy Reardon of Lewiston boxed nine short rounds to a draw here last night before a large audience.

Crops In India Improved.

Calcutta, Nov. 24.—Rain has fallen in most of the districts of Bengal, and has improved the crop prospects. If the rain continues immediate danger of a severe famine will be averted.

Gomez Hopes For Victory.

New York, Nov. 24.—The protracted silence of Commander-in-Chief Maximo Gomez of the Cuban army, which has caused considerable anxiety among Cubans here as to his safety, has at last been broken, and the junta in this city has received a communication from him. In this communication, which comes from Las Villas, Santa Clara province, General Gomez says that he has at his command 35,000 well-equipped men, and that with these he intends to proceed to Habana province. The commander-in-chief writes that on account of the bad condition of the roads it took this force of men 12 hours to pass a certain point. General Gomez adds that he is in good health, as are his men, and has every hope of victory.

Traffic War Is Impending.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The Washington Star publishes an interview with Vice President St. John of the Seaboard air line at Norfolk, on the question of the existing differences between the Seaboard and the Southern Railway companies. The Star's correspondent expresses the opinion that a desperate traffic war is impending between the two companies. The price of peace, he infers from his interview with Mr. St. John, is the withdrawal of the Southern's steamer line between Baltimore and Norfolk, and the grant of the demand of the Seaboard, which has been pending for several years, to allow the latter to run their steamer between New York and New Orleans.

Things Booming at Portland.

Portland, Me., Nov. 24.—It is reported here on good authority that five lines of English steamers are to run out of Portland for England this winter. Besides the Allan and Dominion lines, a line to Bristol and to Glasgow, there will be a new line running from here to London. Hundreds of carloads of grain are arriving here daily for exportation to England; where the India famine scare has created a great demand for American grain. The Grand Trunk is working three shifts of men on its new 2,000,000 bushel elevator in order to handle the grain coming into this city over the Grand Trunk.

Held For Poisoning Cows.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 24.—George W. Lary of Norwich, Vt., arrested a few days since on suspicion of poisoning cows and the wholesale distribution of paris green about the streets and outer portions of residences of that village, was arraigned before Judge Quimby. He waived examination, and was placed under $500 bonds for his appearance at the December term of court.

Roosevelt Will Lecture.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—Professor Farnham of the Yale Civil Service Reform club announced last night that arrangements had been completed whereby Theodore Roosevelt would lecture before the club, Dec. 2, on civil service in New York, and in the latter part of January there would be an address by Hon. Charles Jerome Bonaparte of Baltimore.

A TRAGIC DEATH

Aroused the City of Taunton Today.

A WOMAN SHOT DEAD WITHOUT CAUSE.

The Culprit Kills Himself—Motive Unknown.

By Associated Press to the Sun.

Taunton, Mass., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Abbie Barber a boarding house keeper in the district known as "The Weirs" was shot and almost instantly killed by Fred Luther an employe of the street railway power station, just before noon today. Luther afterwards killed himself.

The cause of the tragedy is so far a complete mystery. Mrs. Barber, aged 40, conducted a large boarding house opposite the Cohannet mills. Luther is single, about 24 years, boarded at Mrs. Barber's house and was employed on night duty and during the day often assisted the landlady doing odd jobs about the house. He was about as usual this morning turning the wringer at Mrs. Barber's wash tub. He left the house at 9.30 and returned later. He had been in the kitchen but a short time when the other occupants of the house heard two shots.

Men in the mill heard the shots and hurried to the house. Mrs. Barber was found on the basement floor the blood rushing from a bullet wound in her head. Just as they entered, three more shots were heard. A patrolman went through the house and in Luther's room his dead body was found. He had shot himself in the abdomin and right temple. Only one chamber in the revolver was empty showing that he had reloaded the weapon after inflicting one wound.

The motive is a mystery. Both parties had good reputations. It is not known that Luther paid particular attention to Mrs. Barber.

BIG FIRE IN VERMONT.

Serious Blaze at Townsend Where There Is No Fire Department.

By Associated Press to the Sun.

Brattleboro', Vt., Nov. 23.—Word was received this morning that a large building in the village of Townsend containing Tufts' hotel and a store had been burned, causing a loss of $7000. The cause is unknown. There is no fire department in the village and the insurance is $2500.

UNITED STATES WARNED

Against Plunging Into a War With Europe.

By Associated Press to the Sun.

Paris, Nov. 23.—The Figaro today says: "The American newspapers which are egging the United States to war with Spain should reflect that war with Spain means war with Europe and in the interest of the United States itself, it is to be hoped that this eventually will not arise."

THE AIRSHIP

Invented by a Dentist and is a Great Success.

By Associated Press to the Sun.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 23.—The inventor of the mysterious air ship which has puzzled scientists and others for the past week, is believed to be Dr. E. H. Benjamin, an aged dentist of this city. Several successful trips have been made in the evening and the object as seen with its search lights has been taken for a meteor in Sacramento. The trips through air are said to have been successful even in a severe storm.

DYNAMITE USED AGAIN.

The Insurgents Blow Up Another Train, Injuring Four Persons.

By Associated Press to the Sun.

The insurgents have dynamited an exploring train near Cardenes, province of Matanzas, derailing the engine and upsetting and burning cars. A passenger train which followed was fired upon. Four men and a woman on board were wounded.

THE CLOTH MARKET.

How It Goes in Fall River—Demand Increasing.

A good idea of the state of the cloth market for the past week may be obtained in the reports from Fall River. The sales of print cloths have been exceptionally large and the demand has been for regular weaves of which the largest amount in many months were sold. These were largely for delivery up to February, and the transactions in spot goods have not been large. Accordingly there has not been a very great reduction in the quantity of goods on hand, and the burden, together with a falling cotton market, has served to keep the price of goods down to 2 3-8 cents, at which price manufacturers declare, there is little profit. The contracts for December already exceed half the output, and sales are reported up to July of next year.

Sickness makes a man's hands useless. General and nervous debility holds him down just as surely as a great weight. He feels that he is down, but he hasn't strength or energy enough to get up again. His whole body seems tired out. His head is heavy. All effort is distasteful. He is as tired in the morning as he was when he went to bed. The sleep he gets is heavy, dreamful, and unrefreshing. His body is full of turgid, healthless, impure blood. He is subject to headaches and dizziness and palpitation of the heart at the least exertion. He is on the direct road to serious sickness. Few men appreciate how serious is their case when they say: "Oh, there is nothing the matter with me. My blood is a little out of order; that is all."

Pure blood is essential to life. The more impure it becomes, the stronger hold disease has on the system. If, instead of containing health-giving, life-giving properties, the blood is full of disease-breeding impurities, how is the daily waste of the tissues to be replaced? It is perfectly natural that the man will lose vitality and nerve force—that he will lose flesh and vigor. He will be useless to himself and to everyone else.

Impure blood comes from perfectly reasonable causes, and if the proper measures are taken, it is easy to purify it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the greatest blood-purifier that was ever known. It is more than this. It is a cleanser and invigorator for the whole system. It strengthens the digestion, works directly on the liver, restoring it to healthy, normal action. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, makes assimilation easy and nutrition perfect. It drives all impurity out of the blood, and substitutes just the material needed to bring the whole body back to the highest state of life.

When constipation is one of the symptoms of debility, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used to clear the system of effete matter, and permit the "Discovery" to do its best work. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. These two medicines may be had at any good drug store, and full particulars concerning them will be sent, on request, by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

COMMUNICATION.

Lowell, Nov. 23, 1896.

Editor Sun:—I desire to complain of the way some motormen on the L. and S. road drive their cars. They evidently imagine that pedestrians have no rights on the streets at all, and that street cars in all cases have the right of way. Some of them drive very carelessly in Merrimake and Central streets.

PASSENGER.

HOW ABOUT THAT $32,000?

Will Mr. Clapp Get It or Will The Courts Settle the Amount?

Around city hall the people are asking what will become of that bill of $32,000 for the 16 horses sold to the city by Chas. Clapp; also what will be done with the monthly bills of $16 each for interest on the sum mentioned.

The city is evidently determined not to settle at that cost, so it looks as though Mr. Clapp will have to go to court to recover unless some outside agreement is made.

The committee on accounts has not approved the bill and is not likely to approve it.

SOME CRISP GOSSIP.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Abby Elkina Bennett to Mr. Joseph Atwood Pierce in Trinity church, Haverhill, Monday evening, Dec. 7. Miss Bennett is a Haverhill young lady, but has resided in this city the past few years and was head milliner at Miss Abbie M. Smith's. Mr. Pierce is a well known business man of Boston.

A youngster who has the button craze started to read his collection of mottoes to his "pa" the other evening. It ran something like this: "Bryan," "He had wheels in his head," "Just tell them that you saw me," "Here is your hat, what is your hurry?" "16 to 1," "If you love me, grin," and when he got that far the buttons were on the way to the fire.

Saturday and Sunday the youngsters had a gay time sledding and skating on granolithic walks about city hall and Memorial building. It was the first of the season, but it did not last long.

Men who were never known to look pleasant before had their faces wreathed in smiles yesterday. They were republican office seekers.

"Oh, what a difference in the morning," was the call with several republican warblers today; and several hundred others are giving the old greeting; "What did I tell you?"

"God be with the good old days," said an ex-councilman to me yesterday. "These were the times when it was just as much honor and carried as much weight to be councilman as mayor." What a difference now! In a few years you will have to pay men to run for aldermen and councilmen.

Thanksgiving turkeys are plenty in the markets and the careful head of the family is already around making his selection.

Sometime in January the Drury Lanes or Aetnas will hold their first assembly of the season. Each member will be privileged to invite a limited number of friends and there will be one of the most pleasant parties of the season.

Last night was a beautiful one overhead and in house.

I was greatly interested in the work of the mill employes who were hauling bales of cotton from the burning pile in the Massachusetts mill yard yesterday morning for harder workers than they would be difficult to find. There was in particular one who attracted the attention of those who weren't hustling. He was a strapping man, an engineer they said, and he hauled those immense bales of cotton through the mud and water with the strength of a Sandow.

Agent Southworth was among the workers at the fire, wading through the water in rubber boats, directing in his affable manner the work of the firemen and mill employes. There are some mill agents on this side of the ocean who might find it a profitable task to study some of Mr. Southworth's ways.

SHERMAN'S MOVE

Will Decide Whether Hanna Enters Cabinet.

HANNA MAY GO TO UNITED STATES SENATE.

An Extra Session After Inauguration.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—A close friend of Chairman Hanna yesterday explained under what circumstances Mr. Hanna would accept a place in the cabinet.

"Mr. Hanna," he said, "will either go into the cabinet or he will be next Republican United States senator from Ohio. Mr. Hanna's course must be decided by Senator Sherman. Both the chairman and Mr. McKinley understand that, and they are waiting to learn what position Mr. Sherman will take.

SENATOR SHERMAN.

"Mr. McKinley wants Mr. Hanna to accept the treasury portfolio, but Mr. Hanna has other aspirations. He believes it would be a greater honor to be senator from Ohio. But Senator Sherman stands in the way of that. Mr. McKinley will offer Senator Sherman the position of secretary of state, and if he declines to go into the cabinet then Mr. Hanna will accept the position of secretary of the treasury. Should Mr. Sherman decide, however, to become one of President McKinley's advisers, thus vacating his seat in the senate, Mr. Hanna will become his successor. Mr. McKinley will not decide on his course until he learns exactly what position Senator Sherman will take."

This same friend of Mr. Hanna said that it had practically been decided that Congressman Boutelle of Maine would be the secretary of the navy. Despite the fact that both General Miles and Colonel Fred Grant held a conference with Mr. McKinley, neither of them says this gentleman will get the portfolio of war.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Sure to Be Called Within Twenty Days After Inauguration of McKinley.

New York, Nov. 24.—The Mail and Express has the following: There is going to be an extra session of congress called within 20 days after the inauguration of President-elect McKinley. This information comes from Canton, O., in a most positive and direct way, and its reliability cannot be questioned.

It is the opinion of the president-elect that no revenue legislation can be accomplished this winter, and though newspaper dispatches disagree regarding his attitude toward the present agitation for the Dingley bill, there is substantial authority for the statement that Major McKinley is averse to raising expectations as to its enactment, which, in his judgment, cannot be realized. He fears that the business community would become demoralized should the bill be passed in the house again, only to be laid aside by the senate, and he does not share Senator Sherman's opinion that the measure can pass the senate before the reorganization of that body on March 4.

Did No Business.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The joint committee of the two houses of congress, appointed at the last session to investigate the relation of alcohol to the arts and manufacture, and to report upon the feasibility of relieving alcohol used in them from taxation, held a preliminary meeting in the room of the senate committee of rules yesterday. The committee transacted no business beyond entering upon an exchange of views as to the method of conducting the proposed inquiry.

Milo B. Stevens Dead.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—Milo B. Stevens, one of the best-known pension attorneys in the United States, died at his home, 578 Cedar avenue, yesterday, aged 53. Mr. Stevens, ever since the close of the war, was known far and wide as a pension attorney, having been at the head of the firm of Milo B. Stevens & Co., with the principal office in the Glover building, Washington, and branches in this city, Detroit and Chicago. The immediate cause of death was erysipelas.

Bicycle Records Broken.

Denver, Nov. 24.—In the face of the high wind yesterday, Sanger and Swansbrough rode five miles, flying start, on a tandem, on the Denver Wheel club's track, lowering the professional record 16 seconds to 10:37. Watts and Smith established a new amateur record of 1:17 for two-thirds of a mile, flying start, unpaced, on the tandem, and new records of 1:59 2-5 for a mile, and 4:12 3-5 for two miles.

Women In the Fight.

Buffalo, Nov. 24.—Trouble broke out between two factions of Polish Catholics at Depew yesterday, and a small-sized riot was the result. Knives, rocks and fists were used, and at least a dozen men were badly injured. A number of women were mixed up in the fight. They were even more ferocious than their husbands. Seven arrests were made. More trouble is expected, and a number of special police have been sworn in.

BEING SOLD LIKE SHEEP.

Natives of New Hebrides Islands at From Five to Ten Pounds Each.

Sydney, Nov. 24.—Reports have been received from the New Hebrides islands, lying west of Fiji, that the natives are being sold like sheep for from £6 to £10 a head, and that many are subjected to great cruelties.

The New Hebrides are under joint Anglo-French control. The New Hebrides company, which has large interests in the Islands, last year sent a deputation to Sir T. McIlwraith, the colonial treasurer of Queensland, complaining of this joint control, and suggesting that Sir W. MacGregor, administrator of British New Guiana, should also have jurisdiction over the New Hebrides. Sir T. McIlwraith said, in reply, that the only solution lay in the annexation of the islands by Great Britain, or in the establishment of a protectorate over them. There is a British high commissioner of the Western Pacific who has jurisdiction to settle disputes between British subjects living in these islands and others.

The Anglo-French control was fixed by a convention between Great Britain and France on Oct. 24, 1887, in which it was agreed that protection of persons and property in the New Hebrides should be secured by means of a mixed commission, composed of naval officers belonging to the English and French naval stations in the Ignific.

Nail Trust Has Dissolved.

Boston, Nov. 24.—J. H. Parks, treasurer of the Nail association, when asked regarding the dispatch from Chicago stating that the Wire Nail Manufacturers' association had dissolved, said it was substantially true. The Nail association, he said, had lived much longer than its most sanguine promoters expected, and as a financial undertaking had been an unprecedented success. Its present abandonment is not due to any adventitious conditions in the organization, or to any internal differences or shortcomings, but solely to the large growth of outside competition which has sprung up within the past few months. We do not think it would be good business longer to continue a policy which is increasing competition so rapidly. The story that the association has large obligations which it is unable to meet is declared absolutely false by Mr. Park, who says such an intimation is a reflection on the honor and good faith of the nail manufacturers.

Flying Machine Fake.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—The story of the airship is not generally credited. The inventor cannot be found, and those who are reputed to have seen it are not willing to give definite testimony. George D. Collins, the attorney whose name has been connected with the inventor who is an applicant for a patent, admits that he was retained for such services, but ridicules the story of the Sacramento flying machine. He says the story is a fake, but declares his client is working on a machine which is a combination of aeroplane and tailless kite. Attorney Collins, however, says he has not seen the flying machine, which he discredits as to its alleged performances. The name of the inventor is still withheld, and he cannot be found.

Defalcation Is Heavy.

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 24.—The amount of the defalcation of Cashier John H. Hoffer of the First National bank will reach $100,000 or more. Early Sunday morning Cashier Hoffer sent for General Gobin, a director of the bank, and made a clean breast of his defalcations. He stated they extended for a period of six years. At noon yesterday an expert accountant arrived and took charge of the books and papers of the bank. The directors are about to make good the defalcation so that the depositors will not suffer. Hoffer's heavy speculation in real estate is supposed to have been the cause of his downfall.

Boston Alderman Named.

Boston, Nov. 24.—The Democratic municipal convention, which convened at 8 o'clock last night, did not finish its labors until 1 o'clock this morning, owing to a warm contest over the aldermanic nominations. Five out of six of the organization candidates were nominated, but Alderman Charles was defeated. The candidates whose names will appear on the ticket are David Barry, John H. Lee, William J. Donovan, William Donovan, J. J. Mahoney, Josiah S. Dean and Patrick R. McDonald. John H. Duane was nominated for street commissioner.

Nominated by Democrats.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 24.—The Democratic municipal convention last night nominated Colonel John L. Rice for mayor. Colonel Rice is United States commissioner, and has been city marshal at two different times.

WEYLER AT HOME

He Found the Country Air Unhealthy.

DOES NOT CARE TO LOSE HIS HEAD.

Gives No Explanation of His Sudden Change.

Habana, Nov. 24. — Captain General Weyler arrived here last evening from the province of Pinar Del Rio. His return has caused much comment, but as yet it is impossible to learn the true reason for his leaving his command and returning to the capital. The military authorities vouchsafe no information on the subject.

CAPTAIN GENERAL WEYLER.

Exploring trains left Artemisa Monday night and yesterday morning for Candelaria and San Cristobal, in order to prepare for the arrival at Artemisa of Captain General Weyler. At 7 o'clock in the morning, Artemisa and its vicinity was in a state of considerable excitement, for it became known that the captain general was at Mangas, five miles distant.

General Arolas, accompanied by his staff and an escort of cavalry, started soon afterward for Mangas, and at 8:30 news was received at Artemisa that the cruiser Le Gazpi had arrived at Mariel, the port at the northern extremity of the military line across the province of Pinar Del Rio, with instructions to her commander to place his vessel at the disposal of the captain general.

At 9 o'clock, General Weyler entered Artemisa with the columns commanded by Generals Aguilar and Arolas. It was seen that the captain general was considerably sunburned. He wore a field uniform, with a panama hat, and rode a black horse. He put up at the house of a prominent citizen, whose large garden enabled the Spanish commander to receive there the staff officers and others and transmit orders in various directions. There he also transacted considerable business with his chief of staff.

The captain general was received on his arrival at Artemisa by the town authorities, crowds of people and bands of music. Trumpet salutes were sounded and the bells were rung in his honor. After visiting the military hospitals and breakfasting, the captain general started immediately for Mariel.

CAMPANINI DEAD.

Great Tenor Passes Away at Parma Where He First Appeared.

London, Nov. 24.—The Chronicle announces the death of the great tenor, Campanini, at Parma.

Campanini was born at Parma, Italy, in 1846. When 14 years old he enlisted as a soldier under Garibaldi. In the following campaign the discovery was made that he possessed a voice of extraordinary quality. When free from his military obligations the youth entered himself as a pupil at the conservatory at Parma, where he continued two years. His first appearance was in the same city.

Campanini's early experiences were not encouraging, and in 1869 he became a pupil of Francesco Lamperti at Milan. When he reappeared before the public his success became immediately assured. In 1872 he sang in London, the next year in New York. Since then his visits to the chief cities of Europe and this continent have resulted in his undisputed supremacy as the leading tenor of his age.

Miners on a Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., Nov. 24.—The men employed at the Patterson mine went on strike yesterday, claiming that their wages were not paid on Saturday. Factory Inspector Campbell has arrived and will insist on the operators complying with the semi-monthly pay law in the future. The mine only resumed last Thursday after a long idleness, due to the breaker having been blown down by the recent storm.

Officer Uses His Gun.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 24.—John Kerychi of Priceburg was shot and killed yesterday by Max Koehler, a constable. The latter, accompanied by another constable and two citizens, went to Kerychi's house to serve a warrant on him for assault. Kerychi refused to come out, whereupon Koehler forced open a window, and placing a revolver against Kerychi's abdomen, fired. Koehler was locked up.

Thirty-Five Were Saved.

Point Arenat, Cal., Nov. 24.—The remainder of the crew on the wrecked steamer San Benito were rescued yesterday by a boat and transferred to the steamer Wescott. The survivors, numbering 23, were taken to Mendocino. The wreck remains in the same condition. The steamer San Benito will be a total loss. Thirty-five men were saved and eight lost.

Memorial to Kate Field.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—A memorial service to the late Miss Kate Field was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Women's Press association. Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. George Edward Walk, rector of Trinity church. Papers and addresses, eulogistic of Miss Field, were read.

Boxing at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Nov. 24. — Frank Wongo, the "Indian" of Norfolk, was knocked out in the third round last night in a go with Charley Burns of Cincinnati. Burns was trained to a point, and fought very fast. James McCabe of Richmond got the decision over Joe Butler of Philadelphia.

KILLED ON THE TRACK

AN OLD MAN WHO WAS DEAF KILLED INSTANTLY.

The Body Taken to Lowell and Back Again to Billerica.

Chauncey Stearns, an old man who has been deaf for many years, was killed on the railroad track at Billerica yesterday morning.

He was walking the track and did not hear the danger whistle of an approaching train, which struck him and knocked him to one side.

The body was brought to Lowell, and was later taken to Billerica for burial. The deceased had two brothers, Albert and William. He had been a woodchopper for some time.

THE LIQUOR HABIT.

And How it Affects Pauperism, Crime and Insanity.

The Massachusetts bureau of statistics has issued an interesting book showing the influence of the liquor traffic on pauperism, crime and insanity. Some of the conclusions are given below.

Pauperism.

Out of 3,230 paupers, this being the total number found in the state institutions during 12 consecutive months, 2,108, or about 65 in every 100 (65.26 per cent.,) were addicted to the use of liquor. The excessive drinkers numbered 505, or about 16 in every 100 (15.63 per cent.), of all the paupers. The total abstainers numbered 866, or about 27 in every 100 (26.81 per cent.), of all the paupers.

Crime.

Out of 26,672 convictions for various offences during 12 consecutive months, 17,575 or about 66 in every 100 (65.89 per cent.,) were convictions for drunkenness; and 657 or about two in every 100 (2.46 per cent.,) for drunkenness in combination with other offences. Hence 18,232 convictions, or about 68 in every 100 (68.3) drunkenness either [illegible]

In 21,853 cases about 82 [illegible] (81.97 per cent.,) the offender [illegible] in liquor at the time the offence was committed.

Insanity.

Out of 1,836 cases of insanity, this being the total number found in the institutions canvassed during twelve consecutive months, there were found 571 instances, or about 37 in every 100 (36.55 per cent.,) in which the person was addicted to the use of liquor. The excessive drinkers numbered 311, or about 17 in every 100 (16.94,) of all the insane. The total abstainers numbered 677, or about 37 in every 100 (36.87 per cent.,) of all the insane. Information as to the drinking habits of 488, or (26.58 per cent. of the whole number could not be ascertained.

Of the total abstainers 55 were minors, nine being under 15 years of age. There were also 12 minors addicted to the use of liquor. Excluding all the minors, whether total abstainers or not, and also excluding the adults for whom the facts as to the use of liquor could not be ascertained, we have 1251 adult insane persons, of whom 659 or about 51 in every 100 (51.44 per cent.), were addicted to the use of liquor, including 311 excessive drinkers and 348 drinkers not classed as excessive.

Firemen's Ball.

Thanksgiving eve will be royally celebrated by the gallant fire laddies of this city who on tomorrow evening hold their second annual concert and ball in aid of the Lowell Firemen's Fund association a most worthy organization. The American orchestra will furnish music and the committee on arrangements consisting of E. S. Hosmer, president; J. F. Norton, treasurer; Charles Stackpole, clerk; S. E. Bartlett, W. A. Dolan and J. F. McKissock have worked untiringly to make the affair a grand success, socially and financially. The Sun acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend.

Our Kitchen

No kitchen is kept cleaner than the premises devoted to the manufacture of NONE SUCH Mince Meat. No housewife can be more fastidious in the matter of preparing food than we are in the selection and preparation of the materials of which it is made. The cleaning of the currants (for one thing) is more thoroughly done by means of perfected appliances, than it would be possible to do it by hand.

Its cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness and deliciousness are good reasons for using NONE SUCH Mince Meat. The best reason is its saving—of time, of hard work, of money. A ten cent package affords you two large pies, without trouble to you beyond the making of the crust. Makes just as good fruit cake and fruit pudding as it does mince pie. Sold everywhere. THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Is Now Before the People for Their Approval.

Mayor Courtney is at the Head, William P. Foye for Purchasing Agent, and an Aldermanic Ticket That Will Command General Respect—Now for the Election of the Entire Ticket.

Democracy's choice:

For Mayor,
Hon. William F. Courtney.

For Aldermen,
Ward one—Edward B. Pierce.
Ward two—Charles H. Cosgrove.
Ward three—Coolidge R. Johnson.
Ward four—David H. Gerow.
Ward five—Guy H. Holbrook.
Ward six—Henry Hamer.
Ward seven—John Vincent.
Ward eight—Oliver A. Libbey.
Ward nine—Lawrence Cummings, (declined.)

It was a large night for the democracy of Lowell, last night, as after a hard and bitter battle at the caucuses it came together in convention united as of yore, the defeated candidate, Fisher H. Pearson, being prominent among the enthusiastic Courtneyites.

The hall, floor and galleries were filled with democrats who were interested principally in the selection of a candidate for purchasing agent, while little interest was taken in the aldermanic nomination with one exception. That was the case of Ward Nine, where the delegates wanted Mr. Lawrence J. Cummings, the well known newspaper man. There is no question about Mr. Cummings's strength, and in a few minutes the entire convention was talking of Mr. Cummings, and many prominent democrats urged him to stand.

Mr. Cummings, however, could not accept the nomination and declined when his name was presented, despite the entreaties of his friends.

At 8.30 o'clock Hon. Fisher H. Pearson called to order and the delegates took seats with but little delay as all were desirous of getting through quickly.

Hon. John E. Drury nominated Philip J. Farley for temporary chairman and Mr. Farley took the platform. Andrew J. Barrett was then made temporary secretary on motion of John F. Murphy.

On motion of D. J. Donahue a committee of one from each ward as a committee on credentials was appointed by the chair as follows:

Charles H. Burns, Ward one; W. A. Hogan, Ward two; William C. Doherty, Ward three; Jos. H. Gormley, Ward four; John H. Buckley, Ward five; Francis T. Callahan, Ward six; Philip Demarais, Ward seven, Edward B. Pierce, Ward eight; Daniel P. O'Neil, Ward nine.

Mr. Hogan for the committee reported in a short time, at large, Fisher H. Pearson and one delegate from each of the nine wards a total of 82 delegates present. The temporary organization was then made permanent.

Mr. Farley then spoke in substance as follows:

Three candidates of unquestionable ability, of unblemished character, have sought the leadership of the party, and after one of the largest caucuses held in this city, it was decided to take for the best interests of the city that standard bearer who for two years has carried the party to victory, Hon. William F. Courtney. Honorable and loyally have the defeated candidates of the party abided by that great fundamental principle of the party, the will of the majority.

"We are also here unpledged and untrammelled to nominate an aldermanic ticket and we will present the names of the strongest men and most upright in the party."

Hon. John C. Burke, Esq., then arose and said:

"I rise to place in nomination a name that will be received with hearty welcome by this convention. I want first to congratulate the party upon the action of its caucuses, as it comes here a united democracy. I also want to congratulate the party, not because it nominated the Hon. William F. Courtney, but because every candidate mentioned was the peer of any one presented by the other party and had the other candidates received the nomination the party would have been satisfied with the choice."

He then referred in complimentary terms to Mayor Courtney's admirable plan of action while in office, and he closed with expressing his heartfelt congratulations to the party in its choice, and presented in nomination the name of the Hon. William F. Courtney. (Great applause.)

Hon. Fisher H. Pearson then arose and was received with great applause. He said: I had hoped to place Mr. Courtney's name in nomination, but one more eloquent has done the duty well. Mayor Courtney has been nominated after one of the largest and most bitter caucuses ever held and this augurs well for the party's success for when democrats fight among themselves before the caucuses they always fight harder against the enemy on election day. I wish to thank all my friends who voted for me and worked for me and I ask all if they are friends or followers of mine to forget all anti-caucus differences and to work and vote for Mr. Courtney as I shall work for him. In conclusion I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of Hon. William F. Courtney.

Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., then moved that a committee of two from each ward be appointed to fill out the ticket with the exception of purchasing agent. B. D. O'Connell and others objected to the motion as they claimed that certain wards were instructed to vote for certain names.

J. J. Hennessey moved a recess of 10 minutes in order that the different ward delegations might vote on their respective ward candidates.

After several suggestions had been made a motion by W. A. Hogan similar to that of Mr. Hennessey calling for a five minute recess was carried.

After the recess nominations were called for and Henry Courtney representing Ward one said that the delegates in that ward had drafted a candidate from Ward eight and had chosen a finely qualified candidate in the person of Edward B. Pierce. (Great applause.)

Mr. Pierce said that he was a democrat and was willing to respond to the party's call if made in a proper way. He thought it best to call upon a resident of that ward. If you see fit to nominate me, however, I will accept the nomination and if elected will undertake to execute the duties of the office to the best of my ability. We start in next year on a new era and I hope we will elect a board of aldermen who will hold up the hands of Mayor Courtney whom I am confident will take the oath of office on inauguration. There is one issue in particular on which we should win and that is the issue of Americanism, equality, freedom and liberty, civil and religious and our candidates are the only ones on that issue. If you see fit to nominate me I will use my best endeavors in the interest of Americanism and good government.

When Ward two was called Joseph Hennessy arose and in a very complimentary speech nominated Charles H. Cosgrove, Esq. Assuming that the argument would be used that Mr. Cosgrove is too young he quoted history showing that some of the world's most brilliant men achieved their success while yet young men.

William C. Doherty presented the name of Coolidge R. Johnson as Ward three's candidate. (Applause.)

For Ward four Daniel J. Donohue presented the name of David Gerow of Chelmsford street. (Applause.)

In Ward five J. J. O'Connor presented the name of Dr. Guy H. Holbrook. (Applause.)

John C. Burke in Ward six presented the name of Henry Hamer as that ward's candidate for alderman and John H. Nolan said that as the contest was close he would move that the convention proceed to ballot and presented the name of Bowers J. Hart as a candidate. The motion prevailed.

Mr. Hogan reported as follows:

Whole number	81
Necessary	41
Henry Hamer	43
Bowers Hart	37
Blank	1

and Mr. Hamer was declared the nominee.

For Ward 7 John F. Murphy nominated John Vincent as the nominee of that ward.

For Ward 8 Mr. P. Fitzgerald nominated Oliver A. Libbey.

For Ward 9 Frank J. Simonds in complimentary remarks presented the strongest name, that of a sterling democrat, known to every democrat in Lowell, a lifelong resident of the city and a credit to the democratic party, Lawrence J. Cummings, whose name was greeted with loud applause and continued cheering, and Mr. Cummings was declared the nominee with more cheering.

Mr. Cummings declined the nomination in brief remarks, thanking the democracy for the honor conferred upon him. His business was such, he said, that he could not accept the office if elected, and the convention, greatly disappointed, voted to refer the matter to the delegation from Ward 9 with full powers.

Then Col. Carmichael moved that an informal ballot for a superintendent of the department of supplies be taken, and the motion carried.

The informal ballot was announced as follows:

Whole number	82
Necessary	42
Edward J. Carroll	10
Philip B. Connors	14
Miles F. Brennan	24

Mr. P. Fitzgerald urged the nomination of the strongest man.

A second and formal ballot was then taken with this result:

Whole number	82
Necessary	42
Edward J. Carroll	4
Philip B. Connors	6
Miles F. Brennan	32
William P. Foye	40

The third and last ballot nominated Mr. Foye as follows:

Whole number	82
Necessary	42
Edward J. Carroll	1
Miles F. Brennan	34
William P. Foye	47

The announcement of Mr. Foye's success was greeted with applause. The nomination was made unanimous.

Hon. Fisher H. Pearson moved that the officers of the convention be instructed to notify Mayor Courtney of his nomination and on motion of Daniel J. Donahue the officers and executives were given power to fill vacancies.

Adjourned.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

The Savoy.

The Ambulance corps and its friends, the corps in uniform, the ladies freely joined, held forth at the Savoy theatre, last evening, when the eighth week was opened with that sterling military comedy, "Our Regiment," admirably presented by Mr. Weston and his artistic associates. The exquisite costumes and elaborate settings were pleasing adjuncts to the clever work of the company and the audience enhanced its appreciation by the bestowal of liberal applause upon the individual members.

The play is decidedly funny, replete with refined wit and humor, and free from the depressing horse play which works itself into a majority of the comedies of the day.

Mr. Weston as "Guy Warren" made a large hit with his hearers. He was presented with a handsome laurel wreath filled with yellow chrysanthemums. Charles Fleming in the part of the curate who at heart was "a good fellow," caused unceasing merriment while Mrs. Georgia Dickson in the role of a strong minded female holding in check an ungovernable husband (C. J. Alden) was very agreeable. The other members of the company were well assigned. The play will run out the week.

COL. J. W. BENNETT

Won in Mayoralty Race at Republican Caucuses.

JOE MILLER BURIED AS BY AN AVALANCHE.

Barnard Nominated for Purchasing Agent.

The republican caucuses last night under the freedom of the Australian ballot surprised everybody.

Nobody dreamt that Mr. Miller would come out next to the last man. It was generally supposed that he would give Bennett a close rub, but alas! Miller's power is broken, and his friends seem to have taken to the woods. Only 541 republican voters in this city preferred him to the other candidates, while 2271 preferred Col. Bennett, over 4 to 1.

Surely this will be regarded as a cruel "throw-down," and no doubt the Millerites will avenge it later on.

The result is given below:

Totals for mayor: Bennett, 2271; Wilson, 1356; Tryder, 697; Miller, 541; Marston, 440.

Purchasing agent totals: Barnard, 1580; Roper 1118; Goodell, 783; Wotton, 691; Hallett, 444; Brown, 348.

Ward One.

The republicans here were prepared for caucus packing for they had a challenging committee appointed. The caucus was a large one, and when the votes were counted, the following result was announced:

Mayor: Bennett, 203; Marston, 51; Miller, 61; Tryder, 143; Wilson, 124.

Alderman: Edward T. Goward.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 246; Brown, 70; Goodell, 58; Hallett, 41; Roper, 96; Wotton, 61.

Council: Samuel Scott, Clarence W. Dana, and Anadore Bosca.

Ward Two.

The republican forces in this ward are not large, but those who were privileged turned out to vote.

Two men named Sullivan attempted to vote and they were challenged. The vote stood.

Mayor: Bennett, 84; Marston, 16; Miller, 13; Tryder, 9; Wilson, 34.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 88; Brown, 19; Goodell, 9; Hallet, 8; Roper 12; Wotton, 11.

Aldermanic: Lucius A. Derby.

Common Council: Patrick Falvey, Wm. Greenleaf, Ira E. Shaw.

Ward Three.

"Joe" Miller came no where near carrying his own ward. "Jim" Bennett went through with a whoop carrying everything before him. The vote: For mayor, James W. Bennett, 458; Geo. H. Marston, 52; Joseph Miller, 116; George H. Tryder, 64; John C. Wilson, 191.

For alderman: James A. Fovey.

Purchasing agent: Virgil G. Barnard, 130; Frank Brown, 35; Harlan P. Goodell, 101; Frank H. Hallett, 119; Geo. A. Roper, 302; Charles A. Wotton, 138.

School committee: George F. Thomas; council, William H. Brown, O. D. Wilder and James Smith.

Ward Four.

There was a fine tournout of republicans in this democratic stronghold and Wilson carried the ward.

Here is the result:

Mayor: Bennett, 67; Marston, 22; Miller, 64; Tryder, 13; Wilson, 143.

Alderman: Fred A. Tuttle.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 42; Brown, 21; Goodell, 94; Hallett, 24; Roper, 31; Wotton, 64.

Common council: Jos. L. Howarth, Jas. T. Lord, Wm. Wilson.

Ward Five.

It was a fairly good attendance at the caucus in this ward and the different candidates were hustling all evening. The vote as announced was:

Mayor: Bennett, 88; Marston, 28; Miller, 27; Tryder, 11; Wilson, 74.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 64; Brown, 23; Goodell, 33; Hallett, 16; Roper, 32; Wotton, 46.

Alderman, Leblanc.

Common council: James F. Robinson, Hartley Midgley, Thomas F. McQuade.

School committee: Harry Gray.

Overseer of the poor: Robert Farley.

Ward Six.

"Charlie" Kimball won his fight here defeating Brown by 79 votes. Councilmen Drewett and Badger were downed and three new men nominated. Here is the result:

Mayor: Bennett, 163; Marston, 144; Miller, 39; Tryder, 269; Wilson, 97.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 313; Brown 47; Goodell, 39; Hallett, 48; Roper, 99; Wottonf 65.

Alderman: Edward S. Eastman.

Councilmen: Wm. E. Badger, 348; J. H. Beaulieu, 384; Sidney Drewett, 183; Walter Leighton, 375; Geo. H. Taylor, 376; J. F. Walker, 214.

School board, F. K. Stearns, 637.

Overseer of poor, Chas. H. Kimball, 386; Wm. D. Brown, 307.

Ward Seven.

It was a fine endorsement the voters of this ward gave to Lorenzo E. Smith. The very popular councilman polled 539 votes and led in the race. P. J. Custy, who jumped from the democratic to the republican party, was buried. The vote:

Mayor: Bennett, 400; Marston, 35; Miller, 77; Tryder, 50; Wilson, 159.

Alderman: Charles E. Howe, 367; F. P. Rivet, 261.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 335; Brown, 39; Goodell, 80; Hallett, 35; Roper, 156; Wotton, 51.

Common council: Clovis Belanger, 397; P. J. Custy, 219; Alfred J. Howe, 366; Lorenzo R. Smith, 539; Lincoln R. Welch, 410.

Ward Eight.

Councilman George never knew he was in the race when the vote in the council was announced. Politically, he is dead, and no one knows this better than himself.

The result:

Mayor: Bennett, 433; Wilson, 366; Miller, 73; Tryder, 65; Marston, 48.

Purchasing agent: Barnard, 174; Brown, 45; Goodell, 139; Hallett, 101; Roper, 298; Wotton, 175.

Alderman: George L. Hooper.

Councilmen: F. E. Bean, 304; D. E. Dudley, 398; Charles F. Libbey, 491; F. A. George, 226; A. W. Lang, 344; Wm. H. Penn, 580.

School board: Willard Everett.

Overseer of the poor: H. J. Williams.

Ward Nine.

Councilman Eveleth is a member of the street committee and voted to approve the bill for those 16 horses. Last night he was beaten at the caucus and so he dies yearling. DELANEY—The funeral of Thomas Delaney took place yesterday afternoon from his parents' home in Fulton street and was well attended. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

MILLER—The funeral of Bridget Miller occurred this afternoon from Undertaker Molloy's warerooms, and was attended by many relatives and friends. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

DROPPED DEAD

Of Heart Disease in Her Home at Pawtucketville.

Mrs. Kempe, aged 78 years, residing at 33 Second avenue, was found dead at her home this morning. She lived alone in an upper tenement, the lower apartment being occupied by the family of Ben Russell, the fish dealer. Heart disease is the supposed cause.

Yesterday she told the members of the Russell family that she intended to go to Nashua at 10 o'clock this morning to visit relatives. They heard no stir in the house all morning, became alarmed and called to her and kicked on the door, but received no response. Officer Whitney was called and gaining an entrance through a window found the woman dead sitting in a chair and her head resting on a table. Before her was a bowl of oysters which she got from Mr. Russell Monday night. It is thought she died while eating her supper. She has been troubled with heart disease.

POLICE NOTES.

Nellie Brown of 6 Sullivan's court, reports at the police station that between 5.45 and 8.45 yesterday morning there were stolen from her room the following articles: A ladies' gold hunting case watch, letters "N. B." on case, with silver charm; one silver bangle chain of 10c. pieces with "Father" "Mother," "Sister," and "Brother" inscribed; one pair gold bracelets: one single bangle silver bracelet; one gold breast pin set with brilliants; a side bag containing a pocketbook; one empty black pocketbook, a pocketbook containing about $3.50 and two ring boxes with a gold ring with garnet stone. The police are searching for the thief and property.

Police Court—Hadley J.

John Rock received six months at the state farm.

Edward Davis charged with larceny from Alice McCluskey was held in $300 until tomorrow as the complainant was not in court.

Samuel Strong, who was arrested on an old warrant charging him with being a common drunkard was fined $10.

Henry Sullivan, one of the men arrested for assaulting Conductor J. J. Kennedy on a North Chelmsford electric car on election night, was fined $12 this morning.

Eyes
Ears and nose are all more or less affected by catarrh. The eyes become inflamed red and watery, with dull, heavy pain between them; there are roaring, buzzing noises in the ears, and sometimes the hearing is affected; the nose is a severe sufferer, with its constant, uncomfortable discharge. All these symptoms may be removed by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Developed Into Catarrh.

"I took a severe cold which developed into catarrh. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking this medicine, I felt better. I have taken a number of bottles and now I am well." ANNA M. BRANFORD, Adelphi, Ohio.

POISONING CASE

Kennedy of Danvers in a Salem Court.

IS ACCUSED OF POISONING A WHOLE FAMILY.

Also of Having Caused the Death of Kimball.

By Associated Press to the Sun.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 24.—A crowd which filled seating capacity of the local court assembled today to listen to the trial of William Kennedy, charged with poisoning Albert F. Learoyd of Danvers on Nov. 6. The testimony showed that the tea which Learoyd and his family drank that night contained poison. Kennedy is under suspicion in the case of the mysterious death of Sylvester Kimball, employed with him on the Learoyd farm, on Sept. 17 and the government desired to include this case in the present charge, but the court ruled it out temporarily.

SAD FATAL FALL

In Which Thomas Nealon is the Victim.

WAS LEAVING HIS ROOM FOR WORK

When He Fell Down Stairs Breaking His Spine.

Thomas Nealon, aged 28 years, of Lawrence, an industrious bricklayer employed at the Normal school met with a sad and peculiar death this morning.

Mr. Nealon roomed on Eliot street and the front door is reached from his room by a steep stairway.

He started for his work at 6.30 o'clock this morning and as he put his foot on the top stair he slipped and fell on the stairs striking his head on the metal arrangement which protects the stair covering with such force as to be rendered unconscious, then rolling to the bottom in such a manner as to fracture his spine.

Inmates of the house carried him tenderly to his room and two physicians and a clergyman attended him. He suffered great agony until 10.50 o'clock when he died.

Deceased is a brother of John Neilon, the well known clerk in the Merrimack house who was by the bedside of deceased when he died.

The remains were forwarded to the home of the deceased's parents in Lawrence this afternoon.

A Theatrical Visitor.

J. Albert Gates, the courteous and popular press agent and baritone soloist, as well as interlocutor of the Hi Henry minstrel campany, renewed old acquaintances in The Sun office yesterday, and later called on his old friend Billy Merritt of the Pittsburg team.

Mr. Gates, in the show, makes a big hit by his rendition of Hi Henry's latest composition, "One day somebody's darling," which he sings with fine effect.

San Francisco has an airship that in its aerial peregrinations is mistaken for a meteor. When shall we take a picnic to Mars?

New York has inaugurated a crusade against hand organs. If the squeaky and untuned only were barred but few would be left.

"Rubbish" is the term applied to the despatches from Rome declaring that Archbishop Ireland had lost prestige with His Holiness.

The business situation is not as reassuring as the republican press would have us believe. Prices of commodities have gone up. Wages are stationary.

The republican party is drawing the color line upon Councillor Allen, yet that is the party that disowns just such discrimination. The St. Louis convention episode is not forgotten.

It is proposed to put street laborers under civil service rules. It is years ago since Mr. Foy told applicants for positions in the night artillery that they had to pass such an examination.

The Mail should look into the warring factions of the republican party and make peace. The Millerites will not down. Why does the Mail not bring them into line with the party leaders?

The manufacturers of the country demand a special session of congress to provide a tariff to recoup them for their large contributions to the campaign fund. They will have it if Hanna says so.

There will be another legal controversy in the interpretation of the revised charter. It is not what was intended, but what was enacted that will determine the meaning of that famous document.

Everybody in Lowell is expected to look around and find something for which to return thanks. The horse traders, for example, should be thankful at getting such a light sentence.

The only thing, it seems, in which young men of the present day risk their lives without a murmur or even without dread, is foot ball. Were they to show such bravery as soldiers, the foot ball players would all be heroes.

Will the city pay the horse bill? Will it pay a bill which the court found to be fraudulent and for the contracting of which two men were found guilty of conspiracy? Could that bill be recovered by legal process? Not in virtue of a just decision it seems.

The Mail is endeavoring to make it appear that there will be dissension in the democratic ranks. In its assertion that Mr. Pearson's friends will oppose Courtney the Mail makes another of its gratuitous statements for which it is noted—statements without foundation and in open and flagrant contradiction of the facts.

We are apprised by a London paper that war with Spain means war with Europe. No doubt England would gladly join Spain and some other European power in a war against the United States but that is the only kind of a war that she would enter into against America. Suppose it turned out to be a pan-American war with all Europe on the other side. England might do mischief with her gun boats along shore; but neither she nor Spain could retake a single possession they have lost on this continent.

The Tammany Braves as in the Days of Yore.

New York, Nov. 24.—Richard Croker spent Sunday and yesterday in consultation with Tammany district leaders. When seen at his office, he said that he was not yet prepared to talk politics.

In answer to the question: "What are the prospects of harmony in Tammany Hall?" Mr. Croker said: "I see no reason why all Democrats cannot get together now, and present a united front to the enemy in the municipal contest next year. If the people want an economical government they will elect a Tammany mayor."

RICHARD CROKER.

Mr. Croker said that he judged from his talk with the Tammany leaders that there was a disposition to bring about harmony in the organization. When asked how Henry D. Purroy stood, he said he had not seen Mr. Purroy yet. He also declared that he had not seen John C. Sheehan.

Tammany leaders who have talked with Mr. Crocker say there is no doubt that he will direct Tammany's campaign next year, whether he decides to formally resume the leadership or not. He will look over the field this week, and it is said that he will make known his intentions next week.

CARRIERS' OVERTIME.

Will No Longer be Allowed at Washington.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The system of allowing overtime claims of letter carriers throughout the country will soon be practically abolished. This is in accordance with the policy begun by First Assistant Postmaster General James at the beginning of the administration. At that time claims for extra compensation for overtime in work were accumulating at the rate of 70,000 hours a month. This source of great expense to the service has been steadily diminished, and the reports for October show that the amount for that month was only 136 hours for regular letter carriers and 127 hours for substitutes. The department regards the overtime in nine cases out of 10 as unnecessary, and Mr. Jones says it will do away with overtime altogether, save in rare cases, where there is actual necessity.

Wanted by Fall River Police.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 24.—The police here will secure requisition papers for Sambril Harris, under arrest in Cleveland. Harris was arrested in this city in July, 1895, charged with breaking and entering and taking therefrom everything movable in Lakeville church. He was taken to Plymouth, and escaped from Deputy Sheriff Falvey on the train. A search of several days of the woods of Plymouth county was made. A letter was received from a Rabbi in Cleveland last week, making inquiries about Harris' wife, as Harris wished to marry there. Mrs. Harris is living in Taunton.

Will Go Into Receiver's Hands.

Buffalo, Nov. 24.—That the Bank of Commerce will go into the hands of a receiver now seems inevitable. All attempts at reorganization have proved fruitless. Other bankers are not inclined to assist, and the stockholders of the suspended bank cannot agree among themselves any more now than they could before its affairs reached such a shape as to compel suspension. Two names are prominently mentioned for the place of receiver, those of ex-Senator Henry Persons and State Committeeman John R. Hansel.

Weyler Was Scared.

New York, Nov. 24.—A Jacksonville, Fla., dispatch says: A cipher cablegram from Habana last night to a Cuban leader here says that General Weyler has been forced to return to Habana, and that the city is in great confusion.

Weyler gives no excuse, it is said, except that it is too hot and unhealthy to do any fighting. It is openly asserted in Habana that Weyler became frightened because Maceo had set a price upon his head or his capture.

Weyler's scouts informed him that Maceo might make an attempt on Habana, and the Spanish general retreated in hot haste to the safety of his palace.

It is also stated in the cablegram that Weyler's recall is assured now, as the Spanish government is incensed against him for his dilatory tactics.

THE TORRENS TITLE LAW

RECENTLY DECLARED INVALID BY SUPREME COURT.

What the Law Was—It Greatly Expedited the Conveying of Property—The Failure Will Check Efforts to Pass Similar Laws In Other States.

The unanimous decision of the Illinois supreme court that the Torrens land title law of that state is unconstitutional will be a severe setback to those who wish to see the complicated title laws of this country remodeled. The ground on which the decision was given is that the law invested the registrar with judicial powers, and as he is not a court and as the state constitution provides that judicial powers shall be exercised only by the courts the law necessarily contravenes that instrument. So the law fails, unless the legislature can find some way of remedying the defect, which is doubtful.

The Torrens land title law was passed by the Illinois legislature in 1895. One of its provisions required an affirmative vote by a county before it could go into effect. It was submitted to the voters of Chicago and Cook county at the election last spring and was approved by a large majority. It went into effect soon after and up to the time it was declared unconstitutional 182 certificates of registration had been issued under it. Doubtless many more would have been registered had there not been cases before the courts to set aside the law. Now that it has been declared void all that has been accomplished under it will be void, and it will be necessary to return to the old and complicated system of recording land titles.

The law in substance provided that on application of the owner of a piece of property to the county registrar the title should be thoroughly searched. If any flaws were found, the owner was notified and given time to cure them. But if the title was found clear it was registered, and after a certain time had passed no suit to impair the title could be brought. From that date no further searching of old records was necessary, and in conveying property the only step needed to prove title was a reference to the records in the registrar's office, which were always to be accessible. The method was quick and cheap. Instead of waiting weeks for a patient searching of musty title deeds, for which the payment of a round sum in lawyers' fees was demanded, the required information was always at hand and could be obtained at short notice and for a moderate sum.

The failure of the law in Illinois will necessarily check efforts to pass similar laws in other states. And if the point made by the Illinois supreme court holds good it is doubtful if such a law can be passed which will stand the test of the courts. As a Chicago lawyer remarked: "The real Torrens system can never be established in this country without an amendment to the constitution. It works well in Canada and Australia, where there are no written constitutions, but such an innovation would be unfortunate in a settled country like this." If this is a correct view of the case, the constitution will have to be amended or else the present method of conveying property will probably have to continue indefinitely. As the country grows older the searching of titles becomes constantly a more onerous task. It is to be hoped that some system, whether the amended Torrens system or some other, will be found which can lighten the burden.—Philadelphia Press.

THEY ARE 'HELA MONSTERS.

Repulsive Reptiles That Live at the Bottom of the River.

"Soy, Chimmie, we don't fish no more in the 'Hela,'" said a boy wearing one rubber boot as his face took on a look of horror.

"Why, what's de matter?" asked his companion.

"Dogs, big water dogs, and dey'll get yé, too," replied the youthful fisherman, with a shiver.

The boys had not failed to discover a phenomenon that occurs but seldom. It was the mysterious visit of the water dogs, or river alligators. They are a kind of lizard that lives at the bottom of the rivers hereabouts in the mud. They never fail to drive every other inhabitant of the water away as soon as they arrive. They grow to be a foot in length, and are something like the bullhead in their habits. They made their appearance a few days ago in the rivers about Pittsburg, and, as they seize all kinds of bait, fishing will have to be abandoned until they take their departure. They come and go mysteriously, and not until they have left will the small boy enjoy catching fish.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Such Is Fame.

Governor Elect Tanner of Illinois, with his party and a number of his local friends, occupied a box last night during the initial performance of "The American Beauty" at the Academy, and the man who beat Altgeld attracted considerable attention when the fact of his being present became noised about the theater. Two young men who might have been better posted on the politics of the country were heard discussing the matter.

"Say," said one, "who are the fellows in the box?"

"Why, that's Altgeld and Tanner of Illinois."

"Well, who in the dickens are they?"

"Oh, don't you know who they are? Why they're the big race horse men."

ONE SIDED GRAND JURIES.

Organized Labor In New York Protests Against Them and Tells Why.

District assembly, No. 49 Knights of Labor, and the American Federation of Labor, both of New York city, have submitted to the commission of grand jurors for New York county memorials calling attention to the apparent injustice of selecting members of the grand jury from the wealthy class exclusively.

Both organizations prepared their memorials after a careful scrutiny of the doings of the grand jury for several months past in matters involving corporations.

The first case taken up by the labor men was that of the New York Central railroad. A list of 23 men who were killed on the tracks of that road within the city limits was sent to the district attorney's office, with a view to compelling the road to provide better safeguards for the preservation of human life.

This list was compiled by Secretary Kelly of District assembly No. 49 after a careful inquiry. He found that most of the men killed had been employees of the road.

Mr. Kelly received a reply from Henry W. Unger, District Attorney Fellows' secretary, stating that the case cited had been submitted to several grand juries and dismissed.

The grand jury list, which consists of 600 names, is made up each month from names selected from a box. Twenty-three names are drawn from the box in open court.

"The list is usually made up of wealthy men," said Assistant District Attorney Battle. "I, however, do not see any reason why laboring men should not be put on the list. I have noted during my connection with the district attorney's office that there are certain cases in which labor is interested where it is exceedingly difficult to get indictments. Such, for example, has been the experience where attempts have been made to secure indictments under the law prohibiting the employment of aliens on public works and prohibiting the employees in public buildings from working more than eight hours a day."

Government by Injunction.

The supreme court of Massachusetts rendered three opinions in the case of Frederick O. Vegelahn versus George H. Gunther et al., members of the International Furniture Workers' Union of America, which involved the power of a court of equity to enjoin striking employees from interfering with their employer carrying on his business.

The majority of the court, in an opinion written by Judge Allen, holds that the plaintiff was entitled to an injunction to restrain the defendants from patrolling the sidewalk in front of his premises on Hanover street for the purpose of preventing persons from entering his employ and from intimidating persons by threats or otherwise from entering his employ or continuing in his service and from conspiring among themselves to prevent any person from entering his employ who may desire to do so.

The patrol is held to be an unlawful interference with the plaintiff's rights. This is contrary to the view of Judge Holmes, who heard the case upon its merits and who now dissents from the majority of the court. Chief Justice Field also dissents from the majority, holding that the decree entered in the case by Judge Holmes at the trial should be affirmed without any modifications.

The majority of the court follow out the doctrine of the United States supreme court in the Debs case, and the doctrine of the English court as laid down in the celebrated case of the Mogul Steamship Company versus McGregor.—Boston Special Dispatch.

Wages In Lawful Money.

Organized labor in California has in convention assembled adopted for presentation to the state legislature a bill prohibiting the "truck" system. The principal section of the bill provides:

Any corporation, person or firm engaged in the business of manufacturing, mining, operating or constructing railroads, or in any other business or enterprise of whatsoever kind, in this state, who, by themselves or agent, shall issue or circulate, in payment for wages, any order, check, memorandum, token or evidence of indebtedness not redeemable as required by the first section of this act, or shall fail to redeem the same in lawful money of the United States on demand when presented for payment at the store, office or other place of business where the said order, check, memorandum, token or evidence of indebtedness was issued, except in case of insolvency, or who shall compel or attempt to coerce any employee of any such corporation, person or firm to purchase or receive goods, wares, merchandise or supplies from any person, firm or corporation in exchange for any order, check, memorandum, token or other evidence of indebtedness shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

A Poor Outlook.

The McKinley victory is a triumph for high tariff as well as for a continuous issuance of bonds in time of peace.

The Smell Remains.

You may twist, you may trim
The returns as you will,
The smell of Mark's boodle
Will hang round them still.

M'KINLEY'S LEADERSHIP

His Masterly and Magnificent Conduct of the Campaign.

About 9 o'clock in the evening of the election, while the "landslide" to McKinley was being reported vaguely, but persistently, a wealthy gentleman named Garret A. Hobart telegraphed to Major McKinley, "Congratulations with all my heart on the glorious achievement under your magnificent leadership."

The enthusiastic congratulation turned out to be a little premature, being based on the rumors started by some one not over 1,000 miles from Republican headquarters. But it was none the less touching in its simple truth.

The leadership of McKinley has indeed been magnificent. He has led the way from the state capital to Canton. He has, under the direction of Mark Hanna, led the way to the table, and from the sitting room to the front porch, from which he has harangued his hired pilgrims with his ably edited and carefully memorized speech on the absolute necessity of electing him president.

McKinley led the country into the trap laid for it by the tariff barons in 1890. He led his followers that year into the depths of despair. He led the crowd of hungry office seekers, who repudiated their former views and concealed their present views, or lack of them, in order to feed at the public crib.

In this campaign Major McKinley's leadership has been unquestioned. Who doubted that he was exercising his own will and judgment when he declined to state his views on the currency until a complete set were furnished him with his nomination? It was, no doubt, his masterly leadership that made him resent the attempt of the people to get him to say one word on the subject of the trusts, who owned a controlling interest in him.

For the extraordinary meekness with which he allowed Mark Hanna to alter his ideas and supply him with ready made opinion no other term can be more appropriate than "magnificent leadership."—Kansas City Times.

Silver Must Be Restored.

The restoration of silver as standard money must be accomplished not only in this, but in the other great commercial nations of the earth. The party that pins this banner to its mast will be the dominant party of the future. The Dispatch calls upon every citizen to accept the verdict loyally. It is impossible to get higher than the people. He who would rise must lift the masses with him. Bryan has only begun his work and will not abandon his destiny. This paper will be with him in sunshine and storm, not because he is Bryan, but because he represents the best aspirations of the great people.—Chicago Dispatch.

Very Much Alive.

The London papers are afraid that "Bryan is not dead." Their apprehensions are well founded. No man in the United States is more alive today than William J. Bryan.

Worries the Post.

The talk of an international agreement is cropping out, and the New York Evening Post is throwing a fit every 24 hours, Sundays excepted.

Stronger Than Before.

There is something for everybody to be pleased about. The Democratic party finds itself stronger today without the bolters than it was ever before.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A New Way to Preserve Credit.

There can be no object for concealing the fact that since the 1st of July we have expended $30,000,000 in excess of our revenues. This fact cannot be ignored. It should be regarded as a serious matter. From whence is derived the money paid out in excess of income? It is derived from the sale of bonds, and the sale of bonds means that we are carrying on the business of the nation upon borrowed money to the precise extent of the excess of expenditures beyond revenues. If there is no other way to bring the revenues up to the expenditures, we must continue to borrow, for the credit of the nation must and shall be preserved.—Philadelphia North American.

Borrowing is indeed a new way to preserve credit. It used to be considered the surest way to destroy credit.

A Spoils Administration.

With McKinley in the White House there will be a great many changes in the departments. They will be reorganized with the thoroughness which has characterized the management of McKinley's campaign. Mark Hanna is a great believer in the idea of depositing the spoils with the victors, and Mr. McKinley's administration as governor of Ohio demonstrated his ability to hustle Democrats and superannuated Republicans out of choice roosting places.—Washington Post.

An Unwelcome Necessity.

Brooklyn has a gold cure establishment for women. A woman doctor runs it, and her success has been so pronounced that male inebriates frequently call at her sanitarium for treatment. She doesn't treat her patients like prisoners, but sends them to the theaters and entertains and amuses them in other ways. Still, it is not at all pleasant to learn that homes for women inebriates are among the necessities of the hour.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

He Was Delighted.

There was a little boy whose mother had made a little Lord Fauntleroy of him, training his hair in long curls and dressing him in black velvet knickerbockers and jacket, ornamented with white lace. One day a large girl thought to frighten the picturesque little chap by rushing toward him brandishing a large pair of scissors and exclaiming, "I'll cut off your curls!" The little Lord Fauntleroy was not frightened. He merely replied in a shrill little voice, "Wish you would!"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Truly Penitent.

Little Jennie—Mamma, dear, will you be very angry—if I tell—you that—ah, you are frowning. No. Then, that I have taken—three candies from your box?

Indulgent Mother—There, there. I forgive you. Run away and play.

Jennie—Yes, mamma, darling. But (between her sobs) it isn't that. I only took two. So you must give me the third.—Le Vieux Corsaire.

BERRY DREW HIS CASH FROM THE BANK.

To Hand Over $2800 to the Two Swindlers.

Corning, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Two swindlers found an easy victim in this city yesterday, and worked the tin-box and three-card trick successfully upon S. Spencer Berry for $2800 in cash. It was the same old story of a well-dressed man wanting to buy some property which Berry owned a few miles from this city. The swindlers and Berry started to visit where the land was located, and on their way they met a fellow who was flush with money and had large sums, which he displayed. He said he lost considerable in this city Monday night playing cards, and then produced three cards, with which he began to illustrate the trick he was caught at.

The swindler who was to purchase the land became interested, and finally made a wager of $5, which he won. He then induced Berry to join him in a bet of $5000. This Berry consented to do, and the two returned here, Berry drawing $2800 from the bank.

The swindler was to put up $2200, all of which was to be placed in a tin box. Berry placed his money in the tin box, and the swindler said he would have to go to Elmira to obtain the money, which he had in a bank there. Berry was given the box, which was supposed to contain his money, and the fellow started off to get the $2200. They did not return, and when Berry opened the box he found it contained but a stone and some old papers.

The swindlers were far out of sight by this time. The police have been notified, but it is not expected that the swindlers will be captured, as only a meager description of them can be obtained. Berry is reputed to be worth considerable money. He is said to have made a fortune during the gold fever in California, and has lived in retirement ever since.

A Footrace Assured.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Recently a challenge was sent to England by Pete Ward of this city for a match race between Pat Carroll of Waltham, the present American professional distance champion runner, to match with anyone on the other side, not barring F. E. Bacon, victor in three match races over Tommy Conneff, for a race, or a series of races, from one to five miles, for $1000 a side. Mr. Ward has received a cablegram from Dublin stating that Mullen, the Irish champion, accepts the challenge. The date and distance is not given. Manager Ward and Carroll will leave for the other side about Christmas time. Should Carroll defeat Mullen he will take on Conneff, Crossland or Bacon.

Was Body of Rev. Horace Keeley.

Boston, Nov. 24.—A dispatch to The Traveler from Lynn says: A gentleman, who refused to give his name for various reasons, called upon Sergeant George Munroe at police headquarters at noon yesterday and emphatically declared that the body of the man which was found in Saugus river last week, and which is now at the Lynn morgue, is that of Rev. Horace Keeley, who eloped from Medina, N. Y., with a young girl some weeks ago. The man said he read the description of the dead man Saturday and felt convinced that it was Keeley's body, so he sought the morgue, and producing a photograph identified the body.

Honored by Governor Grout.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 24.—Governor Grout announced a number of appointments yesterday, of which the following are the most important: Fish commissioners, Horace W. Bailey of Newbury for two years, John W. Titcomb of St. Johnsbury for four years; Charles C. Bingham of St. Johnsbury, member of the state board of pharmacy; Mary L. Titcomb of Rutland, member of state library commission; board of dental examiners, George F. Cheney, St. Johnsbury; Thomas Mound, Rutland; S. D. Hodge, Burlington; A. J. Parker, Rockingham, and George O. Webster, St. Albans.

Judge Nott Promoted.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The president has filled the vacancy in the chief justiceship of the court of claims, caused by the death of Judge Richardson, by the promotion to that office of Judge Charles C. Nott, now a member of the court. The latter's place was filled by the appointment of Charles B. Howrey, who now holds a position of assistant attorney general in the department of justice.

Democrats Gain a Congressman.

Richmond, Nov. 24.—The Democrats have gained an additional congressman in Virginia by the action of the state board of canvassers, which gave the certificate to Flood in the Tenth district, owing to the fact that the Buckingham county returns were returned for Jacob Yost, when the other returns were for J. Yost. This gave Flood a plurality.

The Hilton Failure.

New York, Nov. 24.—Schedules in the assignment of Albert B. Hilton, who conducted business under the firm name of Hilton, Hughes & Co., successors to Stewart & Co., were filed yesterday in the supreme court. The schedules show liabilities to the amount of $1,891,575; nominal assets, $1,600,342, and actual assets of $752,174.

Monument to Jersey Troops.

Chattanooga, Nov. 24.—The monument erected at Orchard Knob to the New Jersey troops who fought at Chickamauga, Chattanooga and Missionary Ridge was dedicated yesterday. Speeches were made by Hon. Francis Child, General J. S. Fullerton and Hon. H. Clay Evans of this city.

ALL FOR SILVER

Battle to be Waged Until Victory Comes.

SO SAYS SENATOR JONES AT WASHINGTON.

Permanent Headquarters in That City.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, the chairman of the Democratic national committee, has returned for the congressional season. The senator expressed the opinion that it was not at all likely that the Dingley revenue bill, passed by the house at the last session, would be favorably acted on in the senate. He favors a tax on beer in place of any general tariff revision, and says by making this additional tax $1 a barrel, about $20,000,000 a year revenue would be derived.

Sugar he regards as a necessity of life, and further taxation of it would work against the interests of the poor. The same is true of other articles of consumption of which a great deal is used by the poor. The senator also declares himself in favor of an income tax, so that the rich should be made to contribute toward the burdens of government.

Senator Jones declares that the battle for free silver will be carried on until the metal is restored to the place it held before it was demonetized by the act of 1873. The leaders of the silver movement contemplate a gathering in the near future, when a discussion will be had as to the prospects and steps taken, looking to a continuation of the fight.

From what the senator said, it is probable that the Democrats will establish permanent headquarters in this city, to keep up the campaign for 1900.

DINGLEY BILL CONDEMNED.

General Grosvenor Favors Passage of a Protective Measure at Extra Session.

Cincinnati, Nov. 24.—The Commercial Tribune prints today a long article signed by General Grosvenor, congressman from the Eleventh Ohio district, in which he outlines his views as to the policy of the Republican party.

He says in the outset that he expresses his own views, and does not undertake to commit or represent any other member of the party than himself. Furthermore, he does not even consent to bind himself to these views, should the majority of his Republican associates on the ways and means committee dissent from them. He says:

MR. GROSVENOR, OF OHIO.

"The question of the hour, it seems to me, so far as it relates to economic legislation, is 'ought the Fifty-fourth congress, in its closing session, to pass the Dingley bill, or should that measure be allowed to perish and the Republican party move forward to the discharge of the high duties imposed upon it by the recent election?'"

On these questions General Grosvenor takes the position that although it might be well if the Dingley bill could be passed for temporary relief, and be followed immediately after March 4, in an extra session of congress, by the passage of a proper permanent measure, yet the passage of that tentative bill will hinder and obstruct the passage of a proper measure, and therefore should not be attempted. He criticizes the Dingley bill for proposing advalorem duties, which have proven standing invitations to defraud the government. This was one great defect of the Wilson bill, and it should be remedied in future legislation.

Another reason for the defeat of the Dingley bill is that it does not meet the requirements of the St. Louis platform as a protective measure.

He says every Republican member of the ways and means committee has been re-elected, and these members, "during the time which is to elapse between the first Monday in December and March 4, can formulate a tariff bill, predicated upon the principles of the McKinley law, with schedules adapted to existing conditions, perfected and ready for passage within 10 days after the meeting of an extra session of congress, and then, if there is patriotism and Republicanism enough in the senate it can be passed into a law and be ready for enforcement by May 1.

"On the other hand, let the Dingley tariff law be passed, founded as it is on errors that are organic and incurable. Then let it run till December, 1897, and let congress organize, appoint committees, encounter the delay of the holidays, attack a mass of incidental legislation, and set about framing a permanent tariff. In that case it should do well if it got an untried measure through by September, 1898, in the midst of a campaign, for congress. Meanwhile, the country would be flooded with foreign importations to the injury of home industries, the reduction of revenue and a long train of consequent evils."

Republicans Protest.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 24.—Republican candidates for congress in the late election have filed protests with the board of canvassers against awarding the certificates to their Democratic opponents who were elected on the face of the returns. They allege that the registration law is unconstitutional, and many negroes could not register, and that many who did were not allowed to vote. There were protests from all of the seven districts except Congressman McLaurin's, but the board overruled each case and declared the Democrats elected.

Dingley and His Bill.

New York, Nov. 24.—The World this morning prints a two-column dispatch from Lewiston, Me., over the signature of Nelson Dingley, Jr., in reference to the tariff bill which bears his name. Mr. Dingley says that he "sees no reasonable ground for hoping that the exigency tariff bill, passed by the house last December, will be taken up by the senate this winter." Continuing, he says: "Notwithstanding the time of its continuance is already half gone, I should be glad to see this revenue bill now enacted, because an additional income is needed by the government, and because it would serve to check importations made in anticipation of increased duties. But it should be borne in mind that the passage of the exigency bill this winter would not make any the less necessary a revision of the tariff on protective and permanent lines."

Grounds of Kentucky Contest.

Louisville, Nov. 24.—Secretary Richardson of the Democratic state campaign committee has given out a statement covering the grounds on which a contest over the electoral vote of the state is to be made, first before the contest board, and if unsuccessful there before the courts. It is claimed that irregularities have been discovered affecting sufficient votes to insure the election of 12 of the Democratic electors. It is claimed that on a great many ballots the voters' cross was placed only before the first elector; that those ballots, in the case of the Republicans, were counted for the entire electoral ticket, whereas the Democratic ballots of this sort were counted for only the first elector, W. B. Smith.

Will Act as Escort.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—It is officially announced that troop A, Ohio National Guard of this city, will act as the military escort of President-elect McKinley at the inauguration ceremonies in Washington.

Bryan's House Quarantined.

Omaha, Nov. 24.—A special to The Bee from Lincoln, Neb., says: Ruth, the young daughter of Hon. William Jennings Bryan, is sick with diphtheria, and the family residence was yesterday morning placed under quarantine by Health Officer Rhodes. The disease has been developing for several days, but it was not known to be diphtheria until yesterday morning. The child's condition is not considered dangerous.

Royal Marriage Arranged.

London, Nov. 24.—A Copenhagen dispatch to The Daily Mail says that a marriage has been arranged between Prince Christian of Denmark, eldest son of Crown Prince Frederick, and Princess Pauline of Wurtemburg the daughter of King William II of Wurtemburg. Prince Christian was born Sept. 26, 1870, and Princess Pauline was born Dec. 19, 1877.

The Tiger Smiled.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 24.—The townspeople and students united in their efforts last night in the greatest celebration ever held at Princeton in honor of the greatest football victory ever won by a Princeton team. Boxes, barrels and demolished fences and board sidewalks were heaped up within the quadrangle as high as the surrounding tree tops. These were smeared with tar and oil, and at 9:30 o'clock, when a procession of 2000 people, led by the members of the championship team in a coach, halted in front of Cllo hall, the huge pile was kindled. Speeches were made by President Patton, the football coachers and the players. Meanwhile the bells ringing, whistles blowing and the discharge of firearms kept up a deafening din. A brilliant display of fireworks lighted up the campus and ended the celebration in honor of the greatest football team that ever wore the Tiger stripes.

A Confidential Communication.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Consul General Lee, accompanied by Mrs. Lee and his daughter, called at the state department yesterday. General Lee, when asked concerning the reports that he had recommended intervention by the United States in Cuba, replied that his report had been presented personally to Secretary Olney, and that unless Mr. Olney had given out information concerning it all reports as to its contents were mere conjecture, for as far as he (Lee) was concerned he had not spoken to any one regarding it. When questioned directly as to the recommendations in his report, General Lee said positively that he must decline to discuss it in any shape or form, as his report was in the hands of Mr. Olney, who must make it public if it were to become public. General Lee said that he had not made up his mind as to exactly when he would return to Cuba.

Senator Lindsay on Cuba.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 24.—United States Senator William Lindsay, a strong administration man, expects decisive action on the part of congress regarding Cuba at the approaching session. In an interview, he says: "The revolution now in progress in Cuba must result in the independence of the island or in the practical extermination of the Cuban people." Continuing, the senator says: "Humanity demands that the useless destruction of property and cruel waste of human life should come to an end. If negotiation with Spain will not avail, then there should be intervention. In this movement the United States must take the lead."

Called on McKinley.

Canton, O., Nov. 24.—Colonel Fred Grant was a guest at the McKinley home yesterday afternoon, having come here from Cleveland, where he spent Sunday with National Chairman Hanna and other friends. He has been in St. Louis attending the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee, and merely stopped over in Cleveland and Canton on his way home. He is a personal friend of the McKinleys, and has visited them here on several occasions. William Monahan of Cleveland was another caller.

Into His Father's Shoes.

Atlanta, Nov. 24.—The Democrats of the Third congressional district will hold a convention at Hawkinsville today to nominate a candidate for the vacancy caused by the death of ex-Speaker Crisp. The convention is merely formal, Mr. Charles R. Crisp being the only candidate for his father's unexpired term, and the solid vote of the 13 counties comprising the district will be cast for him. The election will be held Dec. 8.

Sir Charles Staveley Dead.

London, Nov. 24.—The Times this morning contains a notice of the death of Sir Charles Staveley at Dublin yesterday. He was conspicuous during the Crimean and Chinese wars, and he made valuable military sketches at the time of the Oregon difficulty with the United States.

Jailbirds at Liberty.

Upper Sandusky, O., Nov. 24.—All the prisoners confined in the Wyandotte county jail escaped yesterday afternoon and are now at large. It is supposed that some one gave them a key by which the lock was picked.

STETSON'S WILL

Adah Richmond Tells When She Married.

THE PLACE PROVIDENCE AND DATE 1870.

The Case May Now Go to a Jury.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Counsel for Adah Richmond Stetson filed specifications in the supreme court yesterday in compliance with the court's order, giving the date and place of the marriage she claims with John Stetson, and which Executor Pattee denies.

The bill states that she was married to John Stetson in Providence, Dec. 7, 1870.

This declaration has been made in response to an order of the court petitioned for by Lawyer Pattee, asking that the appellant, Richmond, declare definitely the date and place of the marriage. The court gave counsel six days in which to file the specifications, and yesterday was the last day.

The answer, as filed by Lawyers Morse and Hellier, is as follows:

"The appellant, Adah Stetson, says that she was married to John Stetson, Jr., in Providence, R. I., on Dec. 7, 1870, that she thereafter lived with him as his wife in Boston, New York city, and in divers other places, and the said Adah Stetson further says that subsequently to April 17, 1874, she lived with him in New York as his wife, and was held out by him to others as his wife."

Will Come Back to Justice.

Hartford, Nov. 24.—Detective Sergeant Dennehy of New Haven late yesterday afternoon obtained requisition papers on the governor of Ohio for the surrender of James Gorman, now under arrest at Cincinnati, charged with embezzlement. Gorman was the confidential clerk of Edward Malley, of the firm of Malley & Neeley, dry goods merchants of New Haven, and while his employer was away on a hunting trip, about two weeks ago, disappeared. Investigation shows that he took fully $1500 in cash, and probably more. A young woman named Fannie Carter, with whom he became infatuated, accompanied him in his flight, and was with him when arrested. Gorman has resided in New Haven about a year, coming from Brooklyn. His salary was $18 a week, but he handled large sums of money and used it lavishly. The case against Gorman is being pressed by a security company that furnished bonds.

Prince Luigi Banqueted.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Prince Luigi of Savoy, of the Italian cruiser Cristoforo Colombo, was tendered a banquet last night at Hotel Vendome by a number of the Italian societies. About 60 sat about the festive board, and the other guests besides the prince were Mayor Quincy, Colonel Henry A. Thomas, the governor's private secretary, Captain Bortolini, the commander of the Cristoforo Colombo, Professor Charles Eliot Norton of Harvard university, Commodore Miller of the navy yard and Adjutant General Dalton. Previous to the banquet, over 1000 of the Italians in the North End paraded through the principal streets, and celebrated in "Little Italy" while the banquet was in progress.

He Is Mentally Unbalanced.

Alfred, Me., Nov. 24.—Peter Smith, who is in jail here for larceny, is believed, from the present investigation, to be James Blake, who is wanted in West Brownfield, Me., and Enton, N. H., in connection with thefts of furniture. Smith, or Blake, was arrested on the charge of stealing produce of a Dayton farmer, and the two horses which were in his possession belong in Brownfield and Limerick. Extensive thefts of silverware, powder, produce, tools, etc., have been made at farmhouses, and the prisoner appears to know all about them. It is believed that a roomful of stolen goods found at North Conway, N. H., was the work of Smith. The prisoner is believed to be mentally unbalanced.

Yale Expects Defeat.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—Elaborate preparations have been made for the Yale-Princeton freshmen game at Princeton next Wednesday afternoon, but, unlike the 'varsity game, few of the Yale students expect to see their team win. It is not that the Yale eleven is not up to the usual standard, but it is believed the Princeton team is unusually strong, as they have on the team several of the 'varsity substitutes. The Yale team will leave here today, and will be accompanied by a large delegation of classmates.

Newell Spoke Effectively.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 24.—Bradley C. Newell, the famous Vermont healer, made his maiden speech in the legislature yesterday. Newell was elected for the first time in the last state election, and he spoke in opposition to a bill which provides that no one shall practice medicine in the state without undergoing an examination by a board of medical examiners. The bill was voted down almost without a vote in the affirmative.

Will Preach For Nothing.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—Recently Rev. Frank R. Luckey, pastor of the Humphrey Street Congregational church, this city, fell heir to a considerable sum of money. In his pulpit Sunday, Mr. Luckey announced that hereafter his services to the church would be rendered gratis. He has secured Rev. E. P. Armstrong of Springfield, Mass., to take charge of the Sunday school work, and Mr. Armstrong will be paid with the pastor's salary.

Old Marketman Dead.

Hartford, Nov. 24.—Henry W. Peckham, the oldest meat market man in the state, and a prominent member of the Connecticut Marketmen's association, died suddenly at his market on Ford street shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been at the horse races at Bloomfield during the afternoon, and had just returned. He was 65 years of age, and had been in business 44 years.

Legacies For Missionary Societies.

Hartford, Nov. 24. — By the will of Maria Whitman of West Hartford, probated yesterday, the American Missionary society and the Home Missionary society will each receive about $20,000; the American board of commissioners of foreign missions, $2000; American Tract society, $500, and West Hartford Ecclesiastical society, $2000.

Want to Keep Plant's Factory.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 24.—The board of trade last night took steps to induce Thomas G. Plant not to remove his shoe business from this city. Mr. Plant's factory is the one at which there has been much labor trouble during the past year. Over 100 business men were admitted to the board at this meeting.

Demand For American Apples.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Cable advices received yesterday from Hamburg state that there is still a strong demand for American apples, especially at interior points of Germany. The supply does not cover the consumption, and at the last sale Baldwins brought 18 marks, or about $3.20 a barrel.

Steam Sawmill Burned.

Temple, N. H., Nov. 24.—The steam sawmill owned by W. P. Bacon, with its contents, was burned to the ground last night. The fire started near the boiler. The loss is $3000, the insurance, $1000. The mill will not be rebuilt.

Nine Rounds to a Draw.

Bangor, Me., Nov. 24.—James Griffin of Bangor and Patsy Reardon of Lewiston boxed nine short rounds to a draw here last night before a large audience.

Crops In India Improved.

Calcutta, Nov. 24.—Rain has fallen in most of the districts of Bengal, and has improved the crop prospects. If the rain continues immediate danger of a severe famine will be averted.

Gomez Hopes For Victory.

New York, Nov. 24.—The protracted silence of Commander-in-Chief Maximo Gomez of the Cuban army, which has caused considerable anxiety among Cubans here as to his safety, has at last been broken, and the junta in this city has received a communication from him. In this communication, which comes from Las Villas, Santa Clara province, General Gomez says that he has at his command 35,000 well-equipped men, and that with these he intends to proceed to Habana province. The commander-in-chief writes that on account of the bad condition of the roads it took this force of men 12 hours to pass a certain point. General Gomez adds that he is in good health, as are his men, and has every hope of victory.

Traffic War Is Impending.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The Washington Star publishes an interview with Vice President St. John of the Seaboard air line at Norfolk, on the question of the existing differences between the Seaboard and the Southern Railway companies. The Star's correspondent expresses the opinion that a desperate traffic war is impending between the two companies. The price of peace, he infers from his interview with Mr. St. John, is the withdrawal of the Southern's steamer line between Baltimore and Norfolk, and the grant of the demand of the Seaboard, which has been pending for several years, to allow the latter to run their steamer between New York and New Orleans.

Things Booming at Portland.

Portland, Me., Nov. 24.—It is reported here on good authority that five lines of English steamers are to run out of Portland for England this winter. Besides the Allan and Dominion lines, a line to Bristol and to Glasgow, there will be a new line running from here to London. Hundreds of carloads of grain are arriving here daily for exportation to England, where the India famine scare has created a great demand for American grain. The Grand Trunk is working three shifts of men on its new 2,000,000 bushel elevator in order to handle the grain coming into this city over the Grand Trunk.

Held For Poisoning Cows.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 24.—George W. Lary of Norwich, Vt., arrested a few days since on suspicion of poisoning cows and the wholesale distribution of paris green about the streets and outer portions of residences of that village, was arraigned before Judge Quimby. He waived examination, and was placed under $500 bonds for his appearance at the December term of court.

Roosevelt Will Lecture.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—Professor Farnham of the Yale Civil Service Reform club announced last night that arrangements had been completed whereby Theodore Roosevelt would lecture before the club, Dec. 2, on civil service in New York, and in the latter part of January there would be an address by Hon. Charles Jerome Bonaparte of Baltimore.

INDUSTRY COUNCIL.

Royal Arcanum Instituted at Elks' Hall Last Night With a Good Charter List.

Industry Council No. 1722 of the Royal Arcanum was instituted at Elks' hall last evening by H. A. Boynton of Newtonville, grand secretary; assisted by J. B. Robeson, assistant supreme secretary; C. E. Kimball, assistant deputy grand regent of Boston; A. W. David, grand regent; Charles W. Clark, grand vice regent; Regents Bowen of Lowell Council, Maynard of Highland council and Ruth of North Billerica council together with a large number of members from the local councils. Grand orator, A. G. Walsh, was present and assisted in the exercises. There are 45 members. The officers elected are: Regent, Denis O'Brien; vice regent, J. W. Finnegan; past regent, John J. Hogan; orator, Wm. J. Coughlin; secretary, William J. Reardon; treasurer, T. P. Boulger; guide, James Sullivan; warden, T. J. Reynolds; collector, John E. Maguire; sentry, James J. McMannon; chaplain, John J. Cluin; trustees, Edward Gallagher, J. Frank O'Donnell and D. S. O'Brien. The meeting nights fixed upon are the first and third Tuesdays of the month.

The Difference.

Calling a harmless old woman a witch is so serious a matter that a late Pennsylvania libel case sustains a verdict of $500 in her favor against a newspaper for merely reporting the fact that her neighbors said and believed that she was a witch. When a young woman is called a "witch" or "a little witch," her remedy is different.—Case and Comment.

WALES VISITING

The Duke and Duchess of Marlboro.

CORDIAL GREETINGS ARE EXCHANGED BETWEEN SCIONS

Of Royalty—Elaborate Preparations For Festivities.

Woodstock, Eng., Nov. 24.—Woodstock and Blenheim were enfete yesterday in honor of the visit of the Prince of Wales to the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. The decorations were most elaborate and universal. The railroad station was made brilliant with scarlet and gold canopies, flags and colored lamps, and the streets leading to Blenheim park gate were lined with Venetian masts, festooned with colored lamps and innumerable flags, many of which were the Stars and Stripes, sewn to Union Jacks, and everywhere were loyal, welcoming mottoes, triumphal arches, covered with foliage, bunting in profusion, lamps of all colors, and Prince of Wales' feathers in abundance.

The royal special train arrived here at 6:40 p. m., and was met by the Duke of Marlborough, who was in waiting on the platform. Outside the railroad station a dense crowd of people was gathered.

The Prince of Wales was the first to alight from the train. He was followed by the Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark and Princess Victoria of Wales. The most cordial greetings were exchanged between the hosts and their guests, after which the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Marlborough led the procession from the depot.

The royal party was greeted with enthusiastic cheers, and a few minutes after their arrival the carriage procession was formed as follows: The first vehicle, a pair-horse, open landau, with the horses ridden by postillions in the Marlborough liveries, contained the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria of Wales and the Duke of Marlborough. It was escorted by the mayor and town councillors on foot. In a second landau were seated Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, General Ellis and Lady Kingscote, escorted by eight town councillors on foot.

The third carriage contained Ladies Londonderry, Helen Stuart, Curzon and Randolph Churchill.

In the fourth carriage were seated Viscount and Viscountess Gesford and Sir Samuel and Lady Scott.

Following these carriages came one of Blenheim's omnibuses, containing Mr. and Mrs. George N. Curzon, Major General Sir Francis Grenfeld and Lady Grenfeld, Mr. Henry C. Chaplin, Mr. A. J. Balfour, Mr. Sidney Greenville and the Earl of Chesterfield.

The Woodstock fire brigade acted as a guard of honor, and marched after the procession to the gates of Blenheim park. The Prince and Princess of Wales and their party received an ovation. Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark and the other members of the party were also heartily cheered.

Upon arrival at the palace, the Duchess of Marlboro, who was attired in black, met the guests at the great door of the palace, where she warmly welcomed the Princess of Wales, who returned her greeting in the most cordial manner.

The most elaborate arrangements have been made for shooting parties throughout the week. There will be state dinners every night and a string band of 50 performers will furnish music during these repasts. Perkins, the organist of the town hall of Birmingham, will play the great organ in the long library on Thursday, upon the occasion of the festivities for the people of the vicinity, who are expected by the thousands. There will be a great torchlight procession of 1000 laborers of Blenheim, and a display of fireworks, surpassing anything seen outside of the Crystal palace.

Schooner Atwood Ashore.

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The Nova Scotia schooner Atwood, from Lower Cove for Boston with a cargo of grindstones, is reported ashore on Baker's island bar, Me., and the captain wires to the owners that she is full of water and broken in two. She is 93 tons register, hails from Parrsboro, and is owned and commanded by Magnus Benjamin. The hull is insured in a Halifax office, and the freight in St. John, N. B.

Bermuda at Halifax.

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The former filibuster Bermuda arrived yesterday from New York. Captain William K. Scott, formerly of the British steamship Flamborough, expects to get permanent British registry and change her name to Laura May. There are few countries that are not represented by the crew of the Bermuda. The steamer will at once load apples for London.

Habana a Silent City.

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The steamer Beta, from Cuba, reports Habana a silent city. The streets are deserted. Business is at a standstill. Several Spanish men-of-war and several merchant steamers comprise the shipping in port. The prevailing opinion is that Spain will acknowledge the independence of Cuba before spring.

Will Divide Turkey.

London, Nov. 24.—The Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent says that the Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia, on a recent visit to Vienna, took with him a proposal for the partition of Turkey among the powers, and to make Constantinople a free port, Russia to have Asia Minor and England to have Egypt.

Expedition to Twat Abandoned.

Tangiers, Nov. 24.—It is reported here that owing to strong foreign pressure, France, after massing troops on the frontier, has been obliged to abandon the projected expedition to Twat, the extensive territory south of Morocco and Algeria.

Speedy's Sensational Dive.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—Kearney P. Speedy, the well known high diver, plunged from the Superior street viaduct into the river, 81 feet, yesterday. He was not injured, and was probably not nearly so frightened as some persons among the crowd who witnessed his dive. He landed with a splash, but arose immediately, and was picked up by a small boat in readiness.

MARTIN LUTHER STEVENS

Prominent in Order of Knights of Pythias, Dies at His Brooklyn Home.

New York, Nov. 24.—One of the oldest, best known and most distinguished members of the order of the Knights of Pythias, Martin Luther Stevens, died at his residence in Brooklyn yesterday. He had been ill for a long time, his sickness being brought on primarily, it is believed, by overwork. Early this summer he was stricken with the fever, which returned a short time ago, and since then his recovery was deemed impossible.

Mr. Stevens was born in Richmond, Me., in 1836, the son of a Baptist clergyman. He was educated in Hamilton college, and for a time served as superintendent of schools in Portland, Me. For the past 30 years he has been engaged in the life insurance business.

Mr. Stevens was one of the oldest Pythians in the state of Maine, he having never withdrawn his membership from Bramhall lodge of Portland. He was especially distinguished in connection with the order in his reports as chairman of the committee on foreign correspondence, which had made his name famous in the order from ocean to ocean. In connection with his position in insurance circles he recently accepted a prominent office with the Providence Life association of New York city, a position which he held until his death.

COMMUNICATION.

Lowell, Nov. 23, 1896.

Editor Sun:—I desire to complain of the way some motormen on the L. and S. road drive their cars. They evidently imagine that pedestrians have no rights on the streets at all, and that street cars in all cases have the right of way. Some of them drive very carelessly in Merrimake and Central streets.

PASSENGER.

HOW ABOUT THAT $32.00

Will Mr. Clapp Get It or Will The Courts Settle the Amount?

Around city hall the people are asking what will become of that bill of $32.00 for the 16 horses sold to the city by Chas. Clapp; also what will be done with the monthly bills of $16 each for interest on the sum questioned.

The city is evidently determined not to settle at that cost, so it looks as though Mr. Clapp will have to go to court to recover unless some outside agreement is made.

The committee on accounts has not approved the bill and is not likely to approve it.

SOME CRISP GOSSIP.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Abby Elkins Bennett to Mr. Joseph Atwood Pierce in Trinity church, Haverhill, Monday evening, Dec. 7. Miss Bennett is a Haverhill young lady, but has resided in this city the past few years and was head milliner at Miss Abbie M. Smith's. Mr. Pierce is a well known business man of Boston.

A youngster who has the button craze started to read his collection of mottoes to his "pa" the other evening. It ran something like this: "Bryan," "He had wheels in his head," "Just tell them that you saw me," "Here is your hat, what is your hurry?" "16 to 1," "If you love me, grin," and when he got that far the buttons were on the way to the fire.

Saturday and Sunday the youngsters had a gay time sledding and skating on granolithic walks about city hall and Memorial building. It was the first of the season, but it did not last long.

Men who were never known to look pleasant before had their faces wrenched in smiles yesterday. They were republican office seekers.

"Oh, what a difference in the morning," was the call with several republican warblers today; and several hundred others are giving the old greeting; "What did I tell you?"

"God be with the good old days," said an ex-councilman to me yesterday. "These were the times when it was just as much honor and carried as much weight to be councilman as mayor." What a difference now! In a few years you will have to pay men to run for aldermen and councilmen.

Thanksgiving turkeys are plenty in the markets and the careful head of the family is already around making his selection.

Sometime in January the Drury Lanes or Astons will hold their first assembly of the season. Each member will be privileged to invite a limited number of friends and there will be one of the most pleasant parties of the season.

Last night was a beautiful one overhead and in house.

I was greatly interested in the work of the mill employes who were hauling bales of cotton from the burning pile in the Massachusetts mill yard yesterday morning for harder workers than they would be difficult to find. There was in particular one who attracted the attention of those who weren't hustling. He was a strapping man, an engineer they said, and he hauled those immense bales of cotton through the mud and water with the strength of a Sandow.

Agent Southworth was among the workers at the fire, wading through the water in rubber boots, directing in his affable manner the work of the firemen and mill employes. There are some mill agents on this side of the ocean who might find it a profitable task to study some of Mr. Southworth's ways.

SHERMAN'S MOVE

Will Decide Whether Hanna Enters Cabinet.

HANNA MAY GO TO UNITED STATES SENATE.

An Extra Session After Inauguration.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—A close friend of Chairman Hanna yesterday explained under what circumstances Mr. Hanna would accept a place in the cabinet.

"Mr. Hanna," he said, "will either go into the cabinet or he will be next Republican United States senator from Ohio. Mr. Hanna's course must be decided by Senator Sherman. Both the chairman and Mr. McKinley understand that, and they are waiting to learn what position Mr. Sherman will take.

SENATOR SHERMAN.

"Mr. McKinley wants Mr. Hanna to accept the treasury portfolio, but Mr. Hanna has other aspirations. He believes it would be a greater honor to be senator from Ohio. But Senator Sherman stands in the way of that. Mr. McKinley will offer Senator Sherman the position of secretary of state, and if he declines to go into the cabinet then Mr. Hanna will accept the position of secretary of the treasury. Should Mr. Sherman decide, however, to become one of President McKinley's advisers, thus vacating his seat in the senate, Mr. Hanna will become his successor. Mr. McKinley will not decide on his course until he learns exactly what position Senator Sherman will take."

This same friend of Mr. Hanna said that it had practically been decided that Congressman Boutelle of Maine would be the secretary of the navy. Despite the fact that both General Miles and Colonel Fred Grant held a conference with Mr. McKinley, neither of them says this gentleman will get the portfolio of war.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Sure to Be Called Within Twenty Days After Inauguration of McKinley.

New York, Nov. 24.—The Mail and Express has the following: There is going to be an extra session of congress called within 20 days after the inauguration of President-elect McKinley. This information comes from Canton, O., in a most positive and direct way, and its reliability cannot be questioned.

It is the opinion of the president-elect that no revenue legislation can be accomplished this winter, and though newspaper dispatches disagree regarding his attitude toward the present agitation for the Dingley bill, there is substantial authority for the statement that Major McKinley is averse to raising expectations as to its enactment, which, in his judgment, cannot be realized. He fears that the business community would become demoralized should the bill be passed in the house again, only to be laid aside by the senate, and he does not share Senator Sherman's opinion that the measure can pass the senate before the reorganization of that body on March 4.

Did No Business.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The joint committee of the two houses of congress, appointed at the last session to investigate the relation of alcohol to the arts and manufacture, and to report upon the feasibility of relieving alcohol used in them from taxation, held a preliminary meeting in the room of the senate committee of rules yesterday. The committee transacted no business beyond entering upon an exchange of views as to the method of conducting the proposed inquiry.

Milo B. Stevens Dead.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—Milo B. Stevens, one of the best-known pension attorneys in the United States, died at his home, 578 Cedar avenue, yesterday, aged 65. Mr. Stevens, ever since the close of the war, was known far and wide as a pension attorney, having been at the head of the firm of Milo B. Stevens & Co., with the principal office in the Glover building, Washington, and branches in this city, Detroit and Chicago. The immediate cause of death was erysipelas.

Bicycle Records Broken.

Denver, Nov. 24.—In the face of the high wind yesterday, Sanger and Swansbrough rode five miles, flying start, on a tandem, on the Denver Wheel club's track, lowering the professional record 16 seconds to 10:37. Watts and Smith established a new amateur record of 1:17 for two-thirds of a mile, flying start, unpaced, on the tandem, and new records of 1:59 2-5 for a mile, and 4:12 3-5 for two miles.

Father Murphy Out on Bail.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—Father Murphy, proprietor of the Father Murphy gold cure institutes in the United States and Canada, who was arrested at the instance of John Franklin on the charge of obtaining $5000 under false pretenses has been released on $4000 bail.

Women In the Fight.

Buffalo, Nov. 24.—Trouble broke out between two factions of Polish Catholics at Depew yesterday, and a small-sized riot was the result. Knives, rocks and fists were used, and at least a dozen men were badly injured. A number of women were mixed up in the fight. They were even more ferocious than their husbands. Seven arrests were made. More trouble is expected, and a number of special police have been sworn in.

BEING SOLD LIKE SHEEP.

Natives of New Hebrides Islands at From Five to Ten Pounds Each.

Sydney, Nov. 24.—Reports have been received from the New Hebrides islands, lying west of Fiji, that the natives are being sold like sheep for from £6 to £10 a head, and that many are subjected to great cruelties.

The New Hebrides are under joint Anglo-French control. The New Hebrides company, which has large interests in the islands, last year sent a deputation to Sir T. McIlwraith, the colonial treasurer of Queensland, complaining of this joint control, and suggesting that Sir W. MacGregor, administrator of British New Guiana, should also have jurisdiction over the New Hebrides. Sir T. McIlwraith said, in reply, that the only solution lay in the annexation of the islands by Great Britain, or in the establishment of a protectorate over them. There is a British high commissioner of the Western Pacific who has jurisdiction to settle disputes between British subjects living in these islands and others.

The Anglo-French control was fixed by a convention between Great Britain and France on Oct. 24, 1887, in which it was agreed that protection of persons and property in the New Hebrides should be secured by means of a mixed commission, composed of naval officers belonging to the English and French naval stations in the Pacific.

Nail Trust Has Dissolved.

Boston, Nov. 24.—J. H. Parks, treasurer of the Nail association, when asked regarding the dispatch from Chicago stating that the Wire Nail Manufacturers' association had dissolved, said it was substantially true. The Nail association, he said, had lived much longer than its most sanguine promoters expected, and as a financial undertaking had been an unprecedented success. Its present abandonment is not due to any adventitious conditions in the organization, or to any internal differences or shortcomings, but solely to the large growth of outside competition which has sprung up within the past few months. We do not think it would be good business longer to continue a policy which is increasing competition so rapidly. The story that the association has large obligations which it is unable to meet is declared absolutely false by Mr. Park, who says such an intimation is a reflection on the honor and good faith of the nail manufacturers.

Flying Machine Fake.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—The story of the airship is not generally credited. The inventor cannot be found, and those who are reputed to have seen it are not willing to give definite testimony. George D. Collins, the attorney whose name has been connected with the inventor who is an applicant for a patent, admits that he was retained for such services, but ridicules the story of the Sacramento flying machine. He says the story is a fake, but declares his client is working on a machine which is a combination of aeroplane and tailless kite. Attorney Collins, however, says he has not seen the flying machine, which he discredits as to its alleged performances. The name of the inventor is still withheld, and he cannot be found.

Defalcation Is Heavy.

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 24.—The amount of the defalcation of Cashier John H. Hoffer of the First National bank will reach $100,000 or more. Early Sunday morning Cashier Hoffer sent for General Gobin, a director of the bank, and made a clean breast of his defalcations. He stated they extended for a period of six years. At noon yesterday an expert accountant arrived and took charge of the books and papers of the bank. The directors are about to make good the defalcation so that the depositors will not suffer. Hoffer's heavy speculation in real estate is supposed to have been the cause of his downfall.

Boston Alderman Named.

Boston, Nov. 24.—The Democratic municipal convention, which convened at 8 o'clock last night, did not finish its labors until 1 o'clock this morning, owing to a warm contest over the aldermanic nominations. Five out of six of the organization candidates were nominated, but Alderman Charles was defeated. The candidates whose names will appear on the ticket are David, Barry, John H. Lee, William J. Donovan, William Donovan, J. J. Mahoney, Josiah S. Dean and Patrick R. McDonald. John H. Duane was nominated for street commissioner.

Nominated by Democrats.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 24.—The Democratic municipal convention last night nominated Colonel John L. Rice for mayor. Colonel Rice is United States commissioner, and has been city marshal at two different times.

WEYLER AT HOME

He Found the Country Air Unhealthy.

DOES NOT CARE TO LOSE HIS HEAD.

Gives No Explanation of His Sudden Change.

Habana, Nov. 24. — Captain General Weyler arrived here last evening from the province of Pinar Del Rio. His return has caused much comment, but as yet it is impossible to learn the true reason for his leaving his command and returning to the capital. The military authorities vouchsafe no information on the subject.

CAPTAIN GENERAL WEYLER.

Exploring trains left Artemisa Monday night and yesterday morning for Candelaria and San Cristobal, in order to prepare for the arrival at Artemisa of Captain General Weyler. At 7 o'clock in the morning, Artemisa and its vicinity was in a state of considerable excitement, for it became known that the captain general was at Mangas, five miles distant.

General Arolas, accompanied by his staff and an escort of cavalry, started soon afterward for Mangas, and at 8:30 news was received at Artemisa that the cruiser Le Gazpi had arrived at Mariel, the port at the northern extremity of the military line across the province of Pinar Del Rio, with instructions to her commander to place his vessel at the disposal of the captain general.

At 9 o'clock, General Weyler entered Artemisa with the columns commanded by Generals Aguilar and Arolas. It was seen that the captain general was considerably sunburned. He wore a field uniform, with a panama hat, and rode a black horse. He put up at the house of a prominent citizen, whose large garden enabled the Spanish commander to receive there the staff officers and others and transmit orders in various directions. There he also transacted considerable business with his chief of staff.

The captain general was received on his arrival at Artemisa by the town authorities, crowds of people and bands of music. Trumpet salutes were sounded and the bells were rung in his honor. After visiting the military hospitals and breakfasting, the captain general started immediately for Mariel.

CAMPANINI DEAD.

Great Tenor Passes Away at Parma Where He First Appeared.

London, Nov. 24.—The Chronicle announces the death of the great tenor, Campanini, at Parma.

Campanini was born at Parma, Italy, in 1846. When 14 years old he enlisted as a soldier under Garibaldi. In the following campaign the discovery was made that he possessed a voice of extraordinary quality. When free from his military obligations the youth entered himself as a pupil at the conservatory at Parma, where he continued two years. His first appearance was in the same city.

Campanini's early experiences were not encouraging, and in 1869 he became a pupil of Francesco Lamperti at Milan. When he reappeared before the public his success became immediately assured. In 1872 he sang in London, the next year in New York. Since then his visits to the chief cities of Europe and this continent have resulted in his undisputed supremacy as the leading tenor of his age.

Miners on a Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., Nov. 24.—The men employed at the Patterson mine went on strike yesterday, claiming that their wages were not paid on Saturday. Factory Inspector Campbell has arrived and will insist on the operators complying with the semi-monthly pay law in the future. The mine only resumed last Thursday after a long idleness, due to the breaker having been blown down by the recent storm.

Officer Uses His Gun.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 24.—John Kerychi of Priceburg was shot and killed yesterday by Max Koehler, a constable. The latter, accompanied by another constable and two citizens, went to Kerychi's house to serve a warrant on him for assault. Kerychi refused to come out, whereupon Koehler forced open a window, and placing a revolver against Kerychi's abdomen, fired. Koehler was locked up.

Thirty-Five Were Saved.

Point Arena, Cal., Nov. 24.—The remainder of the crew on the wrecked steamer San Benito were rescued yesterday by a boat and transferred to the steamer Wescott. The survivors, numbering 23, were taken to Mendocino. The wreck remains in the same condition. The steamer San Benito will be a total loss. Thirty-five men were saved and eight lost.

Memorial to Kate Field.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—A memorial service to the late Miss Kate Field was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Women's Press association. Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. George Edward Walk, rector of Trinity church. Papers and addresses, eulogistic of Miss Field, were read.

Boxing at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Nov. 24. — Frank Wongo, the "Indian" of Norfolk, was knocked out in the third round last night in a go with Charley Burns, of Cincinnati. Burns was trained to a point, and fought very fast. James McCabe of Richmond got the decision over Joe Butler of Philadelphia.

KILLED ON THE TRACK

AN OLD MAN WHO WAS DEAF KILLED INSTANTLY.

The Body Taken to Lowell and Back Again to Billerica.

Chauncey Stearns, an old man who has been deaf for many years, was killed on the railroad track at Billerica yesterday morning.

He was walking the track and did not hear the danger whistle of an approaching train, which struck him and knocked him to one side.

The body was brought to Lowell, and was later taken to Billerica for burial. The deceased had two brothers, Albert and William. He had been a woodchopper for some time.

THE LIQUOR HABIT.

And How it Affects Pauperism, Crime and Insanity.

The Massachusetts bureau of statistics has issued an interesting book showing the influence of the liquor traffic on pauperism, crime and insanity. Some of the conclusions are given below.

Pauperism.

Out of 3,230 paupers, this being the total number found in the state institutions during 12 consecutive months, 2,108, or about 65 in every 100 (65.26 per cent.,) were addicted to the use of liquor. The excessive drinkers numbered 505, or about 16 in every 100 (15.63 per cent.), of all the paupers. The total abstainers numbered 866, or about 27 in every 100 (26.81 per cent.), of all the paupers.

Crime.

Out of 26,672 convictions for various offences during 12 consecutive months, 17,575 or about 66 in every 100 (65.89 per cent.,) were convictions for drunkenness; and 657 or about two in every 100 (2.46 per cent.,) for drunkenness in combination with other offences. Hence 18,232 convictions, or about 68 in every 100 (68.36 per cent.,) included drunkenness either wholly or in part.

In 21,863 cases about 82 in every 100 (81.97 per cent.,) the offender was in liquor at the time the offence was committed.

Insanity.

Out of 1,836 cases of insanity, this being the total number found in the institutions canvassed during twelve consecutive months, there were found 671 instances, or about 37 in every 100 (36.55 per cent,) in which the person was addicted to the use of liquor. The excessive drinkers numbered 311, or about 17 in every 100 (16.94,) of all the insane. The total abstainers numbered 677, or about 37 in every 100 (36.87 per cent,) of all the insane. Information as to the drinking habits of 483, or 26.58 per cent, of the whole number could not be ascertained.

Of the total abstainers 55 were minors, nine being under 15 years of age. There were also 12 minors addicted to the use of liquor. Excluding all the minors, whether total abstainers or not, and also excluding the adults for whom the facts as to the use of liquor could not be ascertained, we have 1281 adult insane persons, of whom 659 or about 51 in every 100 (51.44 per cent.), were addicted to the use of liquor, including 311 excessive drinkers and 348 drinkers not classed as excessive.

Our Kitchen

No kitchen is kept cleaner than the premises devoted to the manufacture of NONE SUCH Mince Meat. No housewife can be more fastidious in the matter of preparing food than we are in the selection and preparation of the materials of which it is made. The cleaning of the currants (for one thing) is more thoroughly done by means of perfected appliances, than it would be possible to do it by hand.

Its cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness and deliciousness are good reasons for using NONE SUCH Mince Meat. The best reason is its saving—of time, of hard work, of money. A ten cent package affords you two large pies, without trouble to you beyond the making of the crust. Makes just as good fruit cake and fruit pudding as it does mince pie. Sold everywhere. Be sure and get the genuine.

Send your name and address, and mention this paper, and we will mail you free a book—"Mrs. Popkins' Thanksgiving"—by one of the most famous humorous authors of the day.
